Senate Will Hold Session on Some Gifts to Women

Mrs. Roosevelt Is Named as Among Sponsors of Ships Given Remembrances
Washington, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Senate Mead Committee intends to hold public hearings on wartime shipbuilders' gifts of diamond bracelets, watches, silverware and other baubles to some 6,000 women who swung christening bottles at ship launchings.
Chairman Mead (D-N.Y.) said the committee had intended to withhold the list of the gifts and the recipients until hearings. The Maritime Commission, however, made it public yesterday.
The committee, of course, will continue its investigation of this subject in accordance with its customary procedure. Mead added in a statement, No date for hearings has been set.
Mead said the committee's interest arose from complaints that relatives of officials in the Maritime Commission were frequently named as ship sponsors.
The 6,000 sponsors ranged from Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the late Vice Adm. Howard K. Hughes, to women welders in shipyards.
The most valuable gift reported was a $2,516.17 diamond bracelet received by Mrs. William D. Leahy, wife of President Roosevelt's personal chief of staff, from the Sun Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation, Chester, Pa.
Mrs. Leahy, who died in 1942, sponsored the Cimarron in 1939.
Miss Barbara Vickery, daughter of the late Vice Adm. Howard K. Hughes, a former member of the Maritime Commission, was listed as receiving a $2,175 diamond bracelet for launching the cargo ship Griffin in 1942 at the Sun Shipbuilding yards.
Mrs. Roosevelt received a tray, a photo album and a war stamp course for participating in the launching of the carrier Casablanca by the Kaiser Shipyards.
Mrs. Emory Land, wife of the former chairman of the Maritime Commission, received a $700 diamond and a sapphire bracelet from the Federal Shipyard and Drydock Company, Kearney, N. J.
In almost every case, the shipbuilders reported that the cost of the gifts came out of the company's profit for building the ship and was not charged to the government.

Union to Picket Stuyvesant At 'Best Time,' Agent Says

Tobin Telegram Sent to Unions Asks Contracts Be Followed and Takes Issue With O'Dwyer
Indianapolis, Sept. 11 (AP)—The office of Daniel J. Tobin, head of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (A.F.L.), sent telegrams today to all local unions in New York and New Jersey insisting that everyone of the locals "abide by its contracts." About 25,000 truck drivers are on strike in the area.
"No local union is authorized to stop men working under bona fide, signed, negotiated contracts," the telegrams said. "Officials of Local 807 (on strike while a new wage contract is being negotiated) have not authorized the stopping of any trucks of any other local unions."
"Joint Council 16 has resolved that all local unions work in conformity with their contracts."
Another telegram released at the local headquarters over Tobin's signature and sent to Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York City said "your statement that you stand 'your statement that you desire to place the responsibility for stoppage of work by truck drivers on the Maritime Commission' is a complete breakdown in union negotiations between the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union, Local 666 and the management of the Stuyvesant Hotel, George E. Yerry, business agent of the Kingston Metal Trades Council today issued the following statement:
"Local 666 will picket the Stuyvesant Hotel at its own convenience and at a time when it will serve its best interests."
Yerry's statement touched off a series of charges and counter charges among Local 666, Fred J. Eisler, manager of the Stuyvesant Hotel and Bob Teetsel, president of the Ulster County Liquor Dealers' Association.
At noon today indications were that the picketing of the Stuyvesant Hotel when it occurs will touch off one of the stormiest labor controversies in the city's history.
In a statement to The Freeman City said that representatives of Local 666 had met with Mr. Eisler of the Stuyvesant at 4 o'clock Tuesday, Mr. Eisler flatly refused to negotiate with the union.

Contract Is Signed for City With Dual Meter Company

A contract was signed yesterday by the city officials with the Dual Meter Company of Canton, Ohio, to install approximately 500 parking meters in the business sections of Kingston.
The contract on behalf of the city was signed by Mayor W. F. Edmuth, City Clerk Raymond A. McAndrew, Corporation Counsel Arthur B. Ewig, and Aldermen Frank Oulton and James J. Carroll, of the traffic control committee of the Common Council.
The contract calls for the installation of the multiple coin meter, taking 1, 2, 3, 4 or 5 pennies, and one five cent piece.
If an autoist desires to park in the metered space for a period not exceeding 12 minutes he drops a penny in the machine, and an additional penny for each additional 12 minute period for a period not to exceed one hour, which costs 5 cents to park.
Under the terms of the contract the city retains 50 per cent of the revenue taken in by the meters, while the company retains the other 50 per cent.
The first payment, however, to the company is made not later than 45 days after installation is completed.
The installation of the meters requires no outlay of money on the part of the city, but throughout the lifetime of the contract or until the meters are paid for, the city retains 50 per cent of the revenue.

Seamen Also Ask Union Quit Board If Decision Is Opposed

(By The Associated Press)
A 24-hour work stoppage by all American labor was urged today by the joint strike committee of the A.F.L. seamen in the event the Wage Stabilization Board should reject the union's wage demands.
Telegrams urging such a stoppage were sent to Philip Murray, president of the C.I.O., and William Green, president of the A.F.L. The seamen, whose walkout has bottled up the nation's ports, also asked the two national union heads to withdraw their representatives from the W.S.B. if it returned an unfavorable decision on the seamen's demands.
Max Korenblatt, chairman of the joint strike committee, said the group met today early this morning, discussing and drafting the telegrams, which he said were approved by John Hawk, vice-president of the Seafarers International Union.
Text of the telegrams asking for the work stoppage read:
"Continued refusal by the Wage Stabilization Board to approve the increases secured by the S.I.U.-S.U.P. in free collective bargaining can only be regarded as an attack upon labor's fundamental rights everywhere. We, therefore, urged that 24-hour work stoppage be called by all American labor in the event the W.S.B. does not reverse itself."
The telegrams asking for withdrawal of labor representatives from the W.S.B. said:
"We urgently request that you withdraw the A.F.L. (or C.I.O.) representative from the Wage Stabilization Board if that body refuses to approve wage increases secured by the S.I.U.-S.U.P. through free collective bargaining with employers. Further participation by labor members on such a board can only be interpreted as approval of a bureau which is depriving labor of its fundamental right as guaranteed by law."
Tugboats in New York harbor resumed towing barges carrying food and fuel for the city's 7,500,000 residents today for the first time since tonight union members struck Saturday in a sympathy move with the nationwide strike of A.F.L. seamen.
Permission to operate some of the 400 tugboats—manned by approximately 3,500 men—was granted last night by leaders of the striking A.F.L. Maritime unions.
Violence Is Predicted
New York, Sept. 11 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer, predicting the possibility of violence if the paralyzing strike of 25,000 truck drivers continued, appealed to Daniel J. Tobin, head of the A.F.L. Teamsters Union, to assume control of the striking local and negotiate an end to the walkout.
Declaring that striking Local 807 was "completely out of the hands of its officers," O'Dwyer said in a telegram last night:
"Unless you or an authorized representative of the international brotherhood assume responsibility and take control of this union and negotiate terms for the settlement of the strike, it is very possible that bloodshed and injury will result."
"Failure of the international to act will lay all future consequences at your doorstep."
O'Dwyer later told newsmen that Communists were dominating the local, but emphasized that the elected union officers were not included in his Communist charges.
The mayor's demand for intervention by Tobin came as the 11-day old strike affected even greater stricture in the city's economic life, bringing widespread industrial layoffs, emptying many drug stores of supplies, halting all beer deliveries and resulting in an embargo on Railway Express shipments into New York.

Outlook Is Dark in U.S. Ship Strike

No Prospects in Sight for Board's Reverse of Wage Ruling That Caused Tie-up
Someone Must Give Seamen Would Return to Jobs if Raises Are Granted
By MAX HALL
Washington, Sept. 11 (AP)—The A.F.L. today formally asked a reversal of the Wage Stabilization Board's ruling that touched off the A.F.L. maritime strike—but prospects of ending the vast shipping tie-up by board action appeared as dark as ever.
The six-man group met behind closed doors to debate the decision of its lifetime. As the members filed into the conference room, Walter Mason, A.F.L. alternate member, substituting for Robert Watt, reiterated that he would immediately make a motion for reversal. No other member would comment.
The board has to decide: Whether to accede to union and ship owners' pressure and okay a higher-than-pattern pay boost, or to stand by its August 23 ruling that A.F.L. sailors must be content with the smaller raise won by C.I.O. seamen.
W. Willard Wirtz, 34-year-old board chairman, said the decision may come today or tomorrow.
If the board were to reverse its previous ruling A.F.L. leaders would order their men back to work.
Panel Stands Pat
But there were no strong indications that the panel is ready to forsake its position.
C.I.O. maritime leaders threw themselves suddenly into the rim of the spotlight meanwhile by calling a surprise meeting of the committee for maritime unity (C.M.U.) in Washington today.
Chairmen Harry Bridges and Joe Curran were expected to preside.
C.I.O. dominated the C.M.U. represents seven unions. It precipitated the strike crisis of last June which led to the wage increase pattern now in dispute.
Unions Stick
The C.M.U. is supporting the current A.F.L. strike and demanding that the wage board approve higher pay, not only for the A.F.L., but for its members as well.
Today's meeting was billed as a strategy huddle on lagging contract negotiations involving two member unions as well as a general discussion of plans to meet "other problems that have arisen."
C.I.O. seamen got a raise of $17.50 a month in June, plus even larger benefits in the form of additional overtime money. A.F.L. seamen then were granted virtually the same terms by the ship operators, except that seamen got $22.50 increase on the west coast and $27.50 in the east.
On August 23 the Stabilization Board said no-go to this extra $5 and $10, holding that to exceed $17.50 would seriously weaken the stabilization program. The A.F.L. blasted the board bitterly, called its men out on strike.
May Change Wage Policy
If the Board sticks by its position the strike will continue until someone gives in. And if that some is the government, it could mean the smash-up of the Stabilization Board and important changes in wage-price control policy.
Faced with this crisis, the Board re-opened the case yesterday to give the unions and ship operators a chance to offer new evidence.
But the hearing was brief and sketchy because the A.F.L. seamen ignored it. Only four witnesses were heard. These men, three representing shipowners and one from the Marine Firemen (an independent union which had negotiated a $22.50 raise for certain members), said the Board had misunderstood the methods of arriving at the wage agreements. They appealed for a reversal.

New Teachers Appointed For Local Schools Tuesday

Teachers Reject Board's Proposal
Norwalk, Conn., Sept. 11 (AP)—The Norwalk Teachers' Association today formally rejected a proposal made by the Board of Estimate and Taxation for settlement of a pay dispute that prevented the city's 16 schools for opening for the fall term last Wednesday.
In Hartford Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin, informed that teachers had rejected the two latest salary adjustment proposals, today summoned to Hartford the full membership of the Norwalk Boards of Education and Estimate and Taxation.
He also called for the attendance of Mayor Edward Kelley. The Norwalk schools have been closed since September 4.
The conference will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow.
City Board of Education Announces List at Meeting; Some Resign
The appointment of several new teachers and the acceptance of the resignation of several others was the principal order of business in a routine meeting of the Board of Education last night.
Albert G. Gruner was appointed a teacher of health in Kingston High School at an annual salary of $2,500. Mr. Gruner is a graduate of Highland High School and has a B.S. degree in Health and Physical Education from Ithaca College in 1941. Prior to the war he was a highly rated baseball pitcher.
Mr. Gruner has had three and a half years' teaching experience at Coeymans High School and Cornwall High School and was an instructor in physical education in the armed services from January 1945 to August 1946.
Miss Dorothea Groves of Port Ewen was appointed a substitute teacher of music in the Kingston public schools at a salary of $2,300 effective September 3.
Miss Groves is a graduate of Kingston High School, class of 1937, and earned her B.S. degree from Ithaca College in 1942. She has had four years teaching experience at Cairo Central School.
The board also announced the appointment of William E. Oskay, Jr., as a teacher of Industrial Arts at a salary of $2,600 effective September 3. Mr. Oskay is a graduate of Oswego High School and has his B.S. degree in education from Oswego State Teachers College in 1941 and his Master of Education Degree from Penn State in 1946. He served two years in the armed services and has had two years' teaching experience at Saranac Lake High School.
Other appointments announced were:
Miss Ruth Van Orden appointed a teacher in the elementary schools at a salary of $2,300. Miss Van Orden is a graduate of Kingston High School, New Paltz Normal and has her B.S. degree from Genesee State Teachers College in 1945. Miss Van Orden has had 17 years' teaching experience, 16 at Lansingburg, N. Y., and one year at Pine Plains Central School.
Miss D. Shirley Fowler was appointed a teacher in the elementary schools at a salary of $2,300. Miss Fowler is a graduate of Kingston High School and has her Bachelor of Education degree from New Paltz State Teachers College in 1942. She has had four years' teaching experience at Bay Shore.
Miss Beatrice Finch was appointed a teacher in the Commercial Department at a salary of $2,500. Miss Finch is a graduate of Greene High School, Greene, and has a B.S. degree from Hartwick College in 1941, and is now studying for her master's degree at Albany State Teachers College. She has had five years' teaching experience at Beaver Falls High School, Beaver Falls, and Carthage High School, Carthage.
Rose A. Abernethy was appointed a substitute teacher of English in Kingston High School at an annual salary of $2,300.

City Gets Only One in Allocation

Other Appropriations Made to Colleges in $450,000 Emergency Housing Move
New Paltz Named State Teachers College Gets $54,000 Fund for Building
Progress on Kingston's temporary housing project was indicated today by the action of Governor Thomas E. Dewey in approving $120,000 to be spent here for 50 housing units.
The governor's approval was announced today by the Associated Press, which stated that the state had authorized allocations totaling $450,000 for emergency housing and college facilities. New Paltz State Teachers' College is included with a $34,000 grant.
Kingston was the only non-college appropriation.
Robert L. Rhinehart, secretary to Mayor William F. Edmuth and his housing committee told a reporter that no official notice had been received from Albany.
"We've done all we can here," he said, "and are waiting for the state to take over."
He added that Sam Doyle of 187 Henry street, chairman, and his committee on housing had completed all local surveys necessary.
The next procedure is for the state engineers to start on the project, Rhinehart pointed out. He said he had not been notified when this would take place.
In a recent interview, Chairman Doyle told a Freeman reporter that the project would move rapidly once material from former army barracks arrives in Kingston.
Doyle said he would follow the work personally, and that all available men would be employed to complete the housing units.
Before Snow Flies
The building expert, who has been in construction work for more than 30 years, and is president of the Ulster County Building Trades advised that the housing committee wanted to have the living quarters ready before snow flies.
The interview was prompted by a Poughkeepsie New Yorker that the lower Hudson valley city was busy erecting temporary homes, frames of 12 army barracks having been created by carpenters working 10 hours a day, five days a week.
According to the report, the carpenters were being paid $1.65 an hour with an additional 10 cents held in escrow pending a decision from the War Adjustment Board on whether to allow the increased scale at $1.75 which was approved by the Master Builders' Association Contractors.
Doyle resented an intimation that Kingston was lax in getting started and cited Beacon as an example of one city that had completed all necessary arrangements long ago but had not received any material to start building.
Kingston's original bid for temporary housing was for 100 units, made last March when the committee and Mayor Edmuth conferred with Frederick L. Brooks, state housing representative.
Loughran Park is to be used for the site of the homes, this area having been chosen instead of Lawton Park which was unavailable for the project because a clause in the deed giving the park to the city specified it was to be used for recreational purposes only.
The Board of Education, which had purchased Loughran Park, granted permission for its use as a housing site on August 19.
Other Projects
Other projects approved by Governor Dewey, according to the Associated Press:
New York State Teachers College, New Paltz: $54,000; alterations.

Lions Are Upset At Board Refusal Of H.S. Auditorium

Education Board Says Its Rule Conforms With Law; Lions Cite Use of Funds
The Board of Education's refusal to permit the Lions Club use of the high school auditorium on October 5 for presentation of the road version of the Broadway hit "Life With Father" touched off sharp reactions among Lion Club members today.
The board denied request for use of the auditorium at a special meeting last night on the grounds that the application did not conform with state education law requirements.
Members of the board also asserted that granting use of the hall to the Lions Club would break a long established precedent.
The board's refusal was based on the allegation that the Lions' request for use of the auditorium was not specific enough as regards disposition of the funds accrued from admission charges. The state law the board pointed out is very rigid in the matter of permitting use of high school auditoriums for performances for which admission is charged and that the allocation of such funds must be specifically described in the request. It was the opinion of the board that the Lions' request was not specific enough.
A board member recalled that the Kiwanis Club had been refused use of the auditorium several years ago because a function would have accrued funds for the general fund of that organization. The state law specifically prohibits use of educational institution auditoriums for performances designed to raise money for a "general fund" of any organization that is not completely charitable in nature.
Lions Club officials bitterly protested.

Dewey Calls A. F. L. Leaders 'Real Statesmen'; Seeks Aid

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—Governor Dewey bid today for labor support in his campaign for reelection as state Democrats named a campaign manager and prepared to throw into high gear their drive to end the four-year G.O.P. reign in the executive mansion.
Dewey, addressing the 75th annual convention of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers Union (A.F.L.) yesterday, attributed what he termed "real statesmanship" to State Federation of Labor leaders and said that when he got into "trouble" on labor problems, Federation President Thomas A. Murray told him "what to do." The governor explained that what he meant to convey was that Murray was helpful in the working out of solutions to labor problems.
The Federation failed to take a stand on the gubernatorial election at its convention this summer. A 25-member committee is scheduled to recommend whether the organization will support Dewey, his Democratic opponent, U. S. Senator James M. Mead, or maintain a hands off policy.
Plan Hard Fight
Meanwhile, Democratic Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick announced in New York that the party manager for the November 5 election campaign would be Francis L. McElroy, Syracuse attorney. McElroy, a former state senator, is a former state senator.

next five years; building needs of rural schools are estimated at $750,000,000."

Charges Considered

London, Sept. 11 (AP)—The British government announced late today that criminal conspiracy charges were being considered against Communist organizers of a fast-spreading squatter invasion of vacant private and government leased dwellings. A statement from the residence of Prime Minister Attlee said a report on the situation had been submitted to the director of public prosecutions.

Dewey Gives Talk On Reforestation Under Republicans

Democrats Leave Black Picture in Conservation for Him to Face, He Tells Group

By HARRY O'DONNELL
Inlet, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—Governor Dewey said today that his administration had made "a real start" in reviving forest conservation from what he called "a very black picture we inherited" from the Democrats.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a forestry conference here in the heart of the Adirondacks, the governor asserted that the development of forestry services and the "planning and financing of public forestry projects on a realistic scale, did not just happen."

The conference was sponsored by the Forestry Subcommittee of the Joint Legislative Committee on Interstate Cooperation. Lumbermen, foresters, conservationists, legislators and state officials, headed by Conservation Commissioner Perry B. Duryea, heard Dewey.

Problems Acute
The group opened a two-day conference yesterday to discuss what Committee Chairman Harold C. Ostertag described as "the increasingly acute problems of reforestation and maintaining the productivity of New York state's forests."

Reviewing action under his administration, Dewey declared: "That a reforestation program 'which has started off bravely in the early thirties at the insistence of farm leaders and conservationists' had gradually but definitely been curtailed until it could be considered as virtually abandoned."

Nurseries Here Neglected
Dewey said that state forest nurseries were neglected, the state purchase of sub-marginal farm lands not suited to agriculture had been stopped, state aid to county reforestation had halted, forest fire-fighting facilities were run down and forest pests and diseases were getting out of control.

Dewey said the reforestation program was "promptly revived" the state approved an $11,000,000 project to put its half million acres of reforestation land in a "condition to produce the maximum amount of timber," and $355,000 was appropriated to renovate forest fire-fighting facilities.

Additional funds were earmarked to combat forest pests and diseases, he added.

Leather Shortage Forces Local Firm To Stop Production

The Kingston Footwear Corporation of 482 Albany avenue has been shut down for the past few weeks due to a scarcity of raw materials, according to a statement made to The Freeman today by Frederick Braunschweig, president of the corporation.

Mr. Braunschweig's statement was: "The Kingston Footwear Corporation has interrupted production on account of inability to obtain leathers. We are trying to reorganize the business."

The footwear company manufactured ladies play shoes of the California style that became very popular during the war years.

55 Persons Employed
At peak production, the Kingston Footwear Corporation employed approximately 55 persons, including 50 war veterans.

The business originally started in New York city and transferred to Kingston in January of 1946 locating in the former Emerick bowling alley building.

A statement published in a recent issue of the Daily News Record said that the Kingston firm was closing because of the lack of experienced labor. Mr. Braunschweig denied this today, asserting that while "experienced labor" in the shoe making is extremely scarce, the real reason for shutting down the plant was the lack of leathers.

Mr. Braunschweig said he was unable to predict when leathers would be available. He stated that Kingston Footwear would be ready to resume production when leathers are available.

Union to Picket At 'Best Time'

refused to bargain for union rights for the three bartenders employed by the hotel, although admitting the legality of Local 666's jurisdiction over the men, Yerry said.

Liquor Dealers Involved

The Ulster County Liquor Dealers Association is involved in the controversy because Local 666 asserts that the association has a rule prohibiting its members from bargaining individually with any union. For this reason, Mr. Yerry said, Local 666 will picket the business establishments operated by officers of the association. This would include The Barn, the Hofbrau, American-Italian Restaurant and other places.

Mr. Yerry charged that such action by the Liquor Dealers Association in prohibiting individual negotiations by its members is a deliberate attempt to "buck the union."

Two Disagree on Point

Both Eisler and Teetsell disagreed sharply with the labor leader. Mr. Teetsell, president of Liquor Dealers, flatly denied Yerry's assertion.

"There is nothing in the by-laws of the Ulster County Liquor Dealers Association that prohibits an individual member from bargaining with a union," Teetsell said in a statement to The Freeman.

The operator of The Barn pointed to the recent contract signed by the Governor Clinton Hotel as proof that any member of the organization can sign a union contract without consulting the association.

The Governor Clinton Hotel signed a union contract without the Liquor Dealers knowing about it," Teetsell stated. "That should answer Mr. Yerry's charges."

Mr. Eisler, manager of the Stuyvesant, said he refused to bargain with Local 666 because he wants "all or nothing at all" insofar as the union is concerned.

"When the union can furnish me with proof that a majority of the employees of the Stuyvesant desire union membership, I will be glad to submit the matter to the National Labor Relations Board," Eisler said.

Asks Majority Proof
Mr. Eisler admitted that the three bartenders at the Stuyvesant had signed union cards but emphasized that he would not agree to any bargaining unless Local 666 can furnish proof that it has a majority of the help signed.

The Stuyvesant manager pointed to the recent Governor Clinton contract as one that included every type of worker in the establishment. "We want it the same way here," he asserted.

Mr. Eisler also stated that the union has been trying for some time to sign the help at the Stuyvesant but has met with little success.

"I have never received any response from the employees of the Stuyvesant," he said. "The employees seem to be satisfied with our treatment and I don't think any of them want to join the union."

Police Court Cases Today Before Judge Cahill

Last night, the police found three strangers using doorways as bedrooms. All three were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct.

The trio was arraigned today before Judge Matthew V. Cahill in police court.

Benjamin Onderdonk, 68, who said he had no home, was given a suspended sentence. He was found asleep on the loading platform of the plant of Livingston & LeFever on Field Court.

George Uranich, 57, also homeless, was found sleeping in the doorway of the Strauss store at 608 Broadway. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

William A. Moore, 60, of Eastport, Maine, found sleeping in the doorway of the Moose Club at 774 Broadway, was given a suspended sentence.

Harry Ostrander, of Falls Village, Conn., charged with public intoxication was sentenced to 30 days in jail, but the sentence was suspended provided he left the city.

Was Fined $25
Mrs. Mary DeGroat, 43, a negroess of Jansen avenue, was arrested last night on a charge of disorderly conduct by James Penaro who turned her over to the police. It was charged she used irreverent language on the street.

Judge Matthew V. Cahill imposed a fine of $25 which she paid. A jail sentence of 30 days was suspended pending future good behavior.

Fuel Oil Shortage Causes Day Line to Shorten Its Season

Transportation difficulties in obtaining fuel oil for the fleet of steamers caused the Hudson River Day Line to end its season on Tuesday, according to officials of the line. It had originally planned for the Day Line to close its season on September 16.

Yesterday there was no upriver boat but the Stuyvesant made the downriver trip from Albany.

Local Death Record

Miss Mary A. Demarest, died Monday at the home of her brother, the Rev. Dr. William H. S. Demarest, former president of Rutgers University and one time pastor of the Catskill Reformed Church. She was 87 years of age and a member of many civic and church organizations in New Brunswick, N. J.

Naccarara, Parichuk, C. H. Mikes and Mrs. J. Class, Merchant Marine, Ernest A. Cesana, one brother, Ernest Cesana and five grandchildren.

The funeral services for Mrs. Annie Pearce, held Tuesday afternoon at her late home, 85 Stephan street, were largely attended by relatives, neighbors and friends. There were numerous floral pieces from organizations and friends. The Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, conducted the service and gave the committal service at the family plot in Wiltwyck cemetery.

Bearers were Andrew Krom, Lester Finch, James Rundles and Ellsworth Duffley, former employees of Mrs. Pearce's husband, George Pearce, in the lace curtain mills. They are members of Branch No. 8 of the Amalgamated Lace Operatives of America. Mr. Pearce, now retired, was employed for 35 years in the lace curtain mills.

The funeral services for Mrs. Annie Pearce, held Tuesday afternoon at her late home, 85 Stephan street, were largely attended by relatives, neighbors and friends. There were numerous floral pieces from organizations and friends. The Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, conducted the service and gave the committal service at the family plot in Wiltwyck cemetery.

Bearers were Andrew Krom, Lester Finch, James Rundles and Ellsworth Duffley, former employees of Mrs. Pearce's husband, George Pearce, in the lace curtain mills. They are members of Branch No. 8 of the Amalgamated Lace Operatives of America. Mr. Pearce, now retired, was employed for 35 years in the lace curtain mills.

Stamford Man Is Fined for Failing To Report Accident

Charles M. Edwards of Stamford paid a $50 fine when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Fred A. Decker of Allaben Monday. He pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident without reporting it.

About three months previously Edwards paid a $50 fine for reckless driving in Oneonta.

On Tuesday morning, September 3, at about 4:30 o'clock a Pontiac sedan owned by Meyer Salem of 612 Madison avenue, New York city, was parked in the driveway of the Leeland Newhall home at Bushnellville where Salem was a guest. The car was struck by a tiff, who alleges his car was damaged to the amount of $28.70.

Albert Fox on the other hand contends that he was not responsible for the accident but that the Braverman car struck his car, it skidded on the wet pavement of the narrow road.

Andrew J. Cook appears for Fox, who denies responsibility and alleges that Braverman was negligent.

Canteries Are Halted
Oakland, Calif., Sept. 11 (AP)—A strike by some 3,500 AFL truck drivers today stopped the haul of fresh fruit and vegetables to northern California canneries, which normally produce about one-third of the nation's pack. The A.F.L. Brotherhood of Teamsters called the strike last night. Grated an hourly wage of 25 cents to $1.38 1/2—the drivers walked out in a dispute over what date it should become effective.

Troopers Say Boys Tried to Wreck Train at New Paltz

An attempt to wreck a Wallkill Valley Railroad train at New Paltz on Monday failed when the obstructions proved to be too light to do serious damage and as a result of the attempt two New Paltz boys have been apprehended and will appear later in Children's Court before Judge Cashin.

Both boys are under 16 years of age and their names were not made public by State Police who say the boys have admitted the act. Both were located by Corporal John Metzger of the Highland barracks, a member of the State Police Bureau of Criminal Investigation.

A north bound freight train due in New Paltz about 9 o'clock that evening struck the obstructions but because of the light nature and the fact that they had not been secured to the rails, the locomotive was not derailed. The obstructions, two tie plates and a couple of old railroad ties, had been placed across the tracks near the tool shed at New Paltz station.

Engineer Claude Christenson brought his train to a stop without damage after the obstructions had been hit and with Conductor Harry Sherwood of Kingston, the matter was reported to Everett Schoonmaker of the Railroad Police. He in turn notified the troopers in the locality which revealed the two lads, whom troopers say have admitted the act.

Longendyke Is Held for Burglary

John Longendyke, 39, who gave his address as 567 Albany avenue, was arrested last night by the police charged with burglary in the third degree. This morning in police court he waived examination and was held for grand jury action by Judge Matthew V. Cahill. Longendyke's arrest followed an investigation made by the police yesterday.

Longendyke is accused of breaking into the restaurant of James Morgan at 19 Cornell street Monday night, and taking liquor valued at $72 as well as cigars.

Chief of Police Ernest A. Boss said that Longendyke obtained entrance to the restaurant by forcing a window in the side of the building toward Broadway.

The police, the chief said, recovered the stolen liquor and cigars from Longendyke's home.

Suit for Injuries In Auto Accident Heard by Cashin

In county court this morning a negligence action brought by Abraham Braverman of Allaben against Albert Fox of Olive Bridge was taken up for trial before Judge John M. Cashin and a jury.

Braverman seeks damages for injuries to his knee and also for damage to his Buick car as a result of an accident on the High Falls-Cottkill road on August 6, 1945.

He was proceeding northward toward Kingston and claims as he drove down a hill the Fox car coming down a hill from the opposite direction skidded and struck his car inflicting damages.

Philip Slutsky appears for plaintiff, who alleges his car was damaged to the amount of $28.70.

Albert Fox on the other hand contends that he was not responsible for the accident but that the Braverman car struck his car, it skidded on the wet pavement of the narrow road.

Andrew J. Cook appears for Fox, who denies responsibility and alleges that Braverman was negligent.

Police Court Cases Today Before Judge Cahill

Last night, the police found three strangers using doorways as bedrooms. All three were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct.

The trio was arraigned today before Judge Matthew V. Cahill in police court.

Benjamin Onderdonk, 68, who said he had no home, was given a suspended sentence. He was found asleep on the loading platform of the plant of Livingston & LeFever on Field Court.

George Uranich, 57, also homeless, was found sleeping in the doorway of the Strauss store at 608 Broadway. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

William A. Moore, 60, of Eastport, Maine, found sleeping in the doorway of the Moose Club at 774 Broadway, was given a suspended sentence.

Harry Ostrander, of Falls Village, Conn., charged with public intoxication was sentenced to 30 days in jail, but the sentence was suspended provided he left the city.

Burglaries Solved By Brophy: Two Boys Are Arrested

Two burglaries were solved yesterday, according to the police, by the arrest of two boys, one 14 and the other 13 years of age, on charges of juvenile delinquency. Both boys will be arraigned later in children's court.

The third boy, who the police say was the ringleader, is now no longer a resident of the city.

Chief of Police Ernest A. Boss said that the burglaries were solved by Detective Clarence Brophy. The two boys, according to the police chief, are accused of two burglaries at the grocery store of Mrs. Mollie Schechter at 17 East Union street, at Ann street.

The first was August 10, when the boys are alleged to have obtained $27 in cash, and the second on September 6, when $9 was taken.

Chief Boss said the boys obtained entrance to the store on both occasions by climbing over the roofs of adjoining garages and then squeezing through some iron bars across the window of the kitchen.

Veterinarians Advanced Fight Against Arthritis

By FRANK CAREY

Associated Press Science Reporter
Washington.—The fight against arthritis, influenza and certain forms of "sleeping sickness" was advanced during the war by veterinarians—the men so often referred to as "horse doctors."

The arthritis research is by no means conclusive but it offers hope that a clue to a cause of the baffling and painful disease may have been discovered.

The American Veterinary Medical Association reports that an active agent which caused the disease in swine was isolated by three workers at Iowa State College.

Iowa researchers described the disease agent as "apparently a new pathogen (disease organism)." When healthy pigs were exposed to this agent, they developed arthritis. The association reported no more details.

The contribution of veterinarians to knowledge of human influenza was this:

They narrowed the field of suspected animal transmitters of the two most common types of human influenza, "A" and "B."

They discovered that the virus found in horses stricken with equine influenza—or "shipping fever"—is entirely different from either the "A" or "B" virus.

Similarity Is Shown

But they also found that microscopic studies of affected tissue in horses showed strong similarity to human tissue studied during the worldwide "flu epidemic in 1918."

The virus of that great plague never was isolated. Some investigators suspect that it was entirely different from "A" or "B."

Army investigators are not yet prepared to give an appraisal of this finding.

In the course of their investigations they also found that while flu in swine and in dogs (canine distemper) is very similar to the disease in humans, the virus in both cases is different.

The army is now working on a vaccine to protect horses from (flu.) Already available is a vaccine that is effective against human "A" and "B."

Also during the war, army veterinarians developed a single vaccine effective against both "eastern" and "western" types of equine encephalomyelitis, or "sleeping sickness" in horses.

They developed a purified vaccine that can be used on human beings exposed to the same diseases, which can be transmitted to man from horses.

Equine encephalomyelitis is the most serious of horse and mule diseases. In 1938, more than 185,000 cases among animals in this country were reported. Only one case has developed among immunized animals.

Approximately 18,000 doses of the human vaccine are kept on hand at the army's veterinary laboratory.

Mass means of immunizing both horse and man against lockjaw—or "tetanus"—were perfected by veterinarians. Tetanus results from wounds becoming infected with organisms that occur in the soil, particularly highly fertile soil.

Tetanus was feared by the medical high command when U. S. troops invaded the rich fields of Normandy, but the immunity "shots" given the soldiers stood the acid test.

Military veterinarians first developed a tetanus "toxoid" for horses and mules. A toxoid causes a mild attack of the disease, enabling the system to build up resistance. The tetanus toxoid later was developed for human use.

Still another development was the finding that penicillin is effective against anthrax, the serious "pasture disease" that can affect man as well as cattle.

Recently a group of army and navy doctors reported successful use of it against anthrax among human beings at Camp Detrick, Md.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By WALTER MASON

(For Hal Boyle)

New Delhi, India, Sept. 11 (AP)—The crash of bombs, snarl of strafing Spitfires and the thunder of artillery have been echoing and re-echoing through the rocky defiles and inaccessible valleys of India's wild and woolly northwest frontier for more than three weeks.

Nearly a dozen villages have been destroyed or greatly damaged as punishment for the abduction of a British political agent. No casualties have been reported, said the reliable New Delhi sources who unfolded the story, but that is because the game is played according to rigid rules in the arid mountains where tough, crafty hillmen hold forth much as they did in Kipling's day.

One of the rules is that several days notice by messenger or leaflet must be given villages scheduled for attacks so that inhabitants may make their way with their belongings into hillside caves and hiding places to watch in safety as their homes are blasted into bits.

New Delhi sources explained that the intent is to destroy the tediously constructed habitations and watchtowers, often 50 feet high, of tribesmen whose building materials are extremely scarce.

This is in order "to keep them busy and out of mischief for the next few months."

Sequence of Events
These sources related this sequence of events in the latest "incident" in the innumerable frontier series:

A large band of heavily armed tribesmen attacked and captured a party including Major J. O. S. Donald, political agent of the chief commissioner in southern Waziristan, only seven miles from headquarters at Razmak where a full brigade is stationed.

The party was held prisoner within four miles of Razmak, but it might as well have been 400 because of the terrain and the fact that it is considered foolhardy for troops to attempt to dislodge even a few tribesmen from their rocky mountain perches.

A couple of days later the agent sent a note saying that he was being reasonably well treated and that he had been abducted because the Shabi Khel tribesmen of the division of Mahsuds felt that they had been treated unfairly in the distribution of cloth and sugar by the British.

The Shabi Khel were told that they could expect punishment commensurate with the length of time that the prisoners were held. The hillmen replied promptly that they would kill their captives if they were attacked. Lengthy negotiations through the village headman finally won release of the prisoners, but the British claimed that the Shabi Khel had failed to comply with certain unspecified demands by the government of the northwest frontier province.

As a result, planes and artillery were sent—after due warning—to attack the hill villages in early August, but still there were no overtures from the hillmen. Punitive action was resumed in the last two weeks in August and nearly a dozen villages were wholly or partially destroyed.

But the rough and ready tribesmen have not given in yet—and that's how it stands.

Unofficial Word Given
The British India office in London said it had been informed unofficially of three fatalities as a result of the bombing of northwest frontier villages.

The deaths, the spokesman said, occurred as the result of "accidental" bombing outside an area which had been duly warned of the impending "punishment."

The villages, he said, were in unadministered territory between Afghanistan and the northwest frontier provinces, inhabited by a race which he said was "always out for loot and plunder."

The spokesman said the British method of dealing with these wild tribesmen of "No Man's Land" was first to warn inhabitants to evacuate, then to bomb watchtowers and other fortifications.

"It is the most humane way of teaching them," the spokesman said. "An expedition into the region would mean unnecessary loss of life."

He said the villages were bombed following the tribesmen's refusal to accede to the demand made by Sir Olaf Caroe, governor of the northwest frontier province, for reparations for the kidnapping of Maj. Donald.

The kidnapers demanded 60,000 rupees ($18,000) and some rifles as ransom. When this was refused, the Mahsuds, who felt they had been treated unfairly in the distribution of cloth and sugar, asked for a loan of 110,000 rupees ($33,000) "to settle matters in their own way."

The loan was granted, the spokesman said, and Maj. Donald was released. Then British demands for reparations for the kidnapping were made. These he added, included a fine of 20,000 rupees ($6,000) 250 rifles, and 20 hostages "as surety for future good behavior."

When the tribesmen refused to comply the inhabitants were warned by leaflets on July 31 that their refusal would entail air action. When there was no response, action was started August 1 against six villages, and damage was inflicted on watch towers and other fortifications, a spokesman said.

War Badges Sold
New Zealand has an extensive black market in badges belonging to members of the Returned Services Association, according to R. S. Mason, of the Auckland chapter. Hundreds of unauthorized persons are wearing the badges and some have even found their way to Australia, where there is a market for them. Many have been stolen from coats in cloakrooms at dance halls and similar public places.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Open Road

Richmond, Calif., Sept. 11 (AP)—Three-year-old Wayne Glass watched wistfully as his older playmates climbed aboard a school bus yesterday and departed for school.

When the next bus came along, he followed them.

The lad was taken off a transcontinental (Greyhound) bus at Vallejo, 20 miles northeast of here.

Doghouse

Houston, Tex., Sept. 11 (AP)—A 35-year-old Panamanian sailor, an unwitting "stowaway" on the Samuel F. Downing, was in Houston today trying to figure out what to tell his wife back in Cristobal, Panama.

He said he reached Cristobal on the Downing, went ashore for a "little party" before going home to his wife, returned to the ship for his papers, and went to sleep. When he woke up, he was bound for Houston.

His comment: "My wife, she will not think this so funny."

No Joke

Chicago, Sept. 11 (AP)—Shirley Hudson, 23, told Superior Judge Edwin A. Robson that her marriage to J. Clinton Hudson, 28, of Wheatland, Wyo., lasted eight days and was "just one practical joke after another."

After their marriage on July 13, 1945, she told Judge Robson, he tied her ankles to a bed sheet and hoisted her up toward the chandelier. When she objected, she said, Hudson told her she had no sense of humor and left her.

Judge Robson granted her a divorce.

Wild Hoss

Chicago, Sept. 11 (AP)—The driver stood up in his horse-drawn wagon, waving his whip and screaming: "Whoa Boss! Stop Joe! Whoa Smoky! Whoa Daisy! Whoa Pete! Stop, you wild horse."

The wagon careened on two wheels between automobiles and pedestrians as the horse galloped along Elston avenue toward Milwaukee avenue. At Milwaukee the horse turned west, and the wagon went south.

As Joseph Kenia, the driver, surveyed the wreckage, a policeman asked "Why didn't you stop him?"

"I just rented the horse and I forgot to ask its name."

Geraldine Fitzgerald Weds New Yorker

Los Angeles, Sept. 11 (AP)—Irish-born Geraldine Fitzgerald, screen actress, and Stuart Scheffell, New York publisher of a juvenile periodical, married late yesterday by Superior Judge Thurmond Clarke.

were enroute today to New York where they said they will make their future home.

It was the first marriage for Scheffell, 35, and the second for the actress, 31.

Rochester Employees Seek Court Order

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—A State Supreme Court ruling to compel union recognition by the Rochester city administration is sought by organized city employees. A petition filed yesterday with Justice H. Douglass Van Duser by Local 871 of the Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (A.F.L.) contends that a state constitutional provision guarantees employees "the right to organize and to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing."

City Corporation Counsel William Emerson said the action was in the nature of a "mandamus" proceeding." He said the city contended that the constitutional provision (Article 1, Section 17) did not apply to municipalities.

STEAM HEAT FROM ANY WALL PLUG!

WITH Electreestem PORTABLE ELECTRIC STEAM RADIATOR

In spring and fall, Electreestem does you over the cold snaps, when otherwise you'd use your central heating plant. In colder weather, Electreestem serves as a heat booster in the room you're using, enabling you to keep the rest of the house at a lower temperature. In milder climates, Electreestem radiators are ideal as the sole heating plant!

As sure as a bell with light, you can get safe, beautiful steam heat with an Electreestem radiator.

DANGEROUS CURVES
The frequency of automobile accidents on Broadway between West Chestnut street and Newkirk avenue would seem to stamp this portion of our main artery of travel as a very dangerous spot, where extreme care in operating a motor vehicle is absolutely necessary. There is an upgrade and downgrade curve here which is a hazard to motor vehicle drivers proceeding in either direction. It is also hazardous to pedestrians on either side of the street.

Signs to warn operators against passing on this curve or caution lights calling attention of motorists to proceed slowly and carefully might help reduce the number of accidents here.

The Bureau of the Budget means business about cutting the government payroll. Within 10 weeks nearly 160,000 federal employees will have left their desks. However, the number of persons going out is only about five per cent of the total number of government workers, which stands at about 2,700,000.

INTER-NATION CLUBS
Quietly at work "increasing an appreciation of American-British traditions and ideals, especially in cultural and spiritual forces common to the two nations" is the little-known Newcomen Society, made up of distinguished Americans and Britons, with its headquarters in London.

The society promotes popular addresses by leaders of both countries and publishes readable booklets that are models of the engraving and printing arts. Literary, historical and scientific subjects, handled in a scholarly fashion, range from the Canadian Pacific Railroad's effect on Canadian national life to a history of the half century of automobilism.

The organization's name comes from Thomas Newcomen (1663-1729), whose steam engine, 50 years ahead of John Watt's, paved the way for the Industrial Revolution. British members include ambassadors, the titled and the scholarly. The American list has such names as Carl Van Doren, Allan Nevins and college presidents like Isaiah Bowman of Johns Hopkins, Karl T. Compton of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Harvey N. Davis of Stevens Institute of Technology, scientists from Cornell, New York, Princeton, Harvard, Lehigh and Yale Universities.

A banding together of men of such caliber from two nations is bound to have a salutary effect on the world. More countries might well promote groups like the Newcomen Society.

Teachers are playing hooky this time, to the delight of the pupils.

GERMANY'S FUTURE
Germany is not going to be a heavy financial drag on America and an economic drag on all Europe any longer than necessary, according to the plan set forth by Secretary Byrnes at Stuttgart. "Recovery in Europe will be slow indeed if Germany is turned into a poorhouse," he said.

At present Germany is being largely fed and supplied by the governments of the occupying nations. Until her own farms and factories and transportation systems begin to function with some degree of efficiency, Germany will continue to be a tremendous expense, a block to European trade and a social and political danger area.

The United States policy of working towards self-government and economic independence in Germany, while guarding against re-armament and future political trouble, should help to straighten out the impoverished country. Zonal barriers will make progress difficult, but economic amalgamation of the British and American zones will help, and the United States intends to continue its efforts toward practical unity of all Germany.

Secretary Byrnes' statement of this government's aims leaves no doubt about

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

THE MORGENTHAU BARBARITY

At long last, after more than a year of tragic trifling, the barbaric Morgenthau Plan for the government of Germany has been discarded by the United States. This reversion to the total conquests of Genghis Khan, this brutal reduction of a people to slavery, this cold-blooded stripping of a land of its heritage, was first offered the Allies at a conference at Quebec. When it was projected, public opinion was so outraged by its savagery that the politicians gave every appearance of abandoning it. Nevertheless, it was instituted and implemented after V-E Day with the result that Soviet Russia was able to enjoy every benefit of Germany and every European nation was frightened by the barbarism of the West. It was inconceivable that any country tempered by Western civilization would conceive of peace in terms which even a Goering would not advocate for his enemies. But because the Morgenthau Plan was a Roosevelt Policy, like the moral corruptions of Teheran and Yalta, politicians were afraid to abandon it, lest they repudiate him, although each day that passed added evidence of its unworkability, its disastrous effect upon the peace of the world, its burden upon the United States. The first real breach in the plan was the decision that the British and American zones would become an economic, although not a political, unit. The latter reservation is really meaningless, for if these zones are one economically, they will by some device become one politically. And if our politicians are realistic, the French Zone will join in economically, for if France is not careful, her economy will be not much more stable than Hungary's. France is not a chooser.

In this economic union lay also this economy for us and the British, for if the Germans can be made to provide for themselves, we shall not everlastingly be forced to sustain them. As it is, it looks as though the United States, having won the war, has to pay an indemnity to the defeated countries as well as to her associated victors.

The second step was Secretary Byrnes' visit to Germany and his magnificently heartening speech which promises to the German people a restoration of industries, a re-establishment of German trade, a stabilization of the standard of living of the German people.

Nothing that has happened at Paris or at UN is of equal importance with the Byrnes speech, for to the peoples of Europe, not only the Germans, but the Scandinavians, the Austrians, the Hungarians, the Italians, the Greeks, and the Turks, it can only mean that the United States has abandoned its policy of Soviet Russia, that not only the Morgenthau Plan, but Teheran, Yalta, and Potsdam are in the discard, that this country has adopted a positive policy of reconstruction, not as a compromise, but as an uncomprisable principle of peace. The Atlantic Charter, that curiously forgotten document, lives again as a way of international life, for friend and foe, for nations large and small.

Who the real author of the Morgenthau plan is, I do not know. Now that everybody is writing a book, claimants for this honor will undoubtedly appear. That it prolonged the war, did infinite damage to the United States, gave the advantage to Soviet Russia, and is beyond doubt now, although when it was first discussed those who, like myself, opposed it were bitterly attacked. The fact is that it ran counter to history; it was wholly outside the American tradition; it was violently anti-Christian in its moral aspects; it was bred of hate out of malice.

It took James Byrnes a long time to rid himself of some of the shackles his predecessors had forged for him. When he entered upon his negotiations, he was burdened by all the secret agreements of Teheran, Yalta, Potsdam, the Morgenthau Plan, three votes for Russia in UN against our one, UNRRA, and so beyond doubt now, although when it was first discussed those who, like myself, opposed it were bitterly attacked. HIGHLAND Highland, Sept. 10—Thirty uniformed members of Highland Hose Company and one of the fire trucks took part in the parade Saturday afternoon in Walden, the 74th annual review.

Mrs. George F. DuBois and son Malcolm returned Monday from Lake Champlain, where they spent the summer at their cottage. Mr. DuBois drove up Saturday and brought them back.

Mr. and Mrs. George Erichsen have started the construction of a new home on the New Palz road.

Stuart Schantz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip T. Schantz, started on Monday to attend courses given for returned servicemen at Vassar College.

Mrs. Ethel Swartz spent Monday with relatives in Newburgh.

Walden visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Marone of the New Palz road on Sunday. Mr. Marone has resumed his duties as sports coach of the Walden High School.

A number from here attended the outboard motorboat races at the Marlborough Yacht Club on Sunday afternoon, for the benefit of the Flip Minard building fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hillman of Philadelphia are spending a week at the Elms.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Alexander celebrated their eighth wedding anniversary and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Curtis their first, with a dinner at Wendover Farms on Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lukach of Portchester were in town Sunday to attend the Rizzo-Bragg wedding. Mr. Lukach, who has a position in New York is a former resident of Highland.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dapp of Yonkers spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Bertha Dapp.

At Century's Turn

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

In 1897 the citizens of Kingston arranged for a big free dinner for all of the children under 14 years of age in the city at the Christmas season that year, and so successful was the event that early in December, 1900, Captain Everett Fowler who had arranged for the original dinner, received a letter from George J. Smith, long active in the civic and political life of Kingston.

The communication read that if Captain Fowler would take charge of the arrangements for the dinner, that Smith would contribute the gifts to be presented, and also furnish the music and the Punch and Judy show for the entertainment of the guests.

Captain Fowler had both the letter from Mr. Smith and the one he had written in reply printed in The Freeman, calling for a meeting of women interested in the project.

The meeting was held and arrangements were made for the big dinner which was held on Saturday noon, December 29, 1900, in the state armory on Broadway.

Approximately 1,500 children attended the turkey dinner, which was served by a committee of prominent men and women of the city.

Are women sensitive about their age? Well, the reader may judge for himself after reading the following letter I received the other day from one who signed herself "A Graduate." The letter said that the writer was much interested in this column and thoroughly enjoyed it, but asked if I would kindly refrain from giving the names and dates of graduation "as we young ladies do not like to have the years published."

Turning from the ticklish subject of a lady's age, I read an old clipping of December, 1900, which related that Herbert Carl had awarded the contracts for the erection of the mammoth big department store on North Front street, at the head of Wall street. This building now houses Montgomery Ward Co.

The contract for the mason work was awarded to W. S. Green, and the carpentry work to Peter C. Osterhout. The building was to be two stories high, and contain more than 40,000 square feet of floor space.

At the annual convocation of Kingston Lodge of Masons on December 28, 1900, the lodge elected John P. Roosa, master; Joseph Drake, senior warden; Ernest Beckett, junior warden; Cornelius Burhans, treasurer; Samuel D. Scudder, secretary, and Hyman Roosa, trustee.

The new master announced the appointment of Roy Hume as senior deacon; C. B. Westbrook, junior deacon; Charles Pleger, senior master of ceremonies; Charles Irwin, junior master of ceremonies; Everett Fowler, marshal; the Rev. A. H. Schlieder as chaplain; Jacob Van Wagonen and J. F. Schwarmann, stewards, and Hyman Roosa, organist. The assistant organist was Charles Zimmerman, and Simon Devos was tiler.

The officers were installed by C. N. DeWitt and Charles C. Ten Broeck.

George McKown, for years one of the leading photographers of Kingston, died on December 28, 1900, in his home on North Front street. Older readers may recall his photographic studio. Mr. McKown was a veteran of the Civil War, and a member of Pratt Post.

Fraternally he was a member of Kingston Lodge of Masons.

Russ Find New Wheat
New wheat which when sown continue to crop three or four times a year, have been announced by the Russian State Experimental Farm in the North Caucasus. Moscow has been informed that they were produced by crossing wild couch grass with wheat and rye. Other wild plants being tried include Lyme grass found on seashores.

Comparison of Percentages in Maine Voting Is Not Considered Fair to Either Side
By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 11 — The Maine elections turned out as usual—that is the figures can be read by partisans to suit their own political perspective.

Actually Senator Brewster, Republican, polled 53 percentage points more than he did when he ran six years ago, but he fell 27 percentage points behind the vote which Senator Wallace White got four years ago. This gives both sides a break.

It is not fair to either side, however, to compare percentages obtained by gubernatorial candidates with percentages obtained by Senators or members of congress in Maine elections. The governorship usually turns on local issues and personalities and often a big vote for the state ticket is contradicted as to size by a presidential vote the same year. Also, off-year elections should be compared with other off-years because the political activity is different.

It is a fact that in 1930 when the Republican vote for U. S. Senator was 60.9 per cent of the total there was a drop to 50.2 in 1934—another off-year election when there was no campaign on for the presidency. The next time a U. S. senator was voted on was 58.7 but, again, this is not germane to the comparison.

The real comparison comes with the 1942 off-year election when Senator White, Republican, won by polling 66.7 per cent of the vote. Now comes Senator Brewster with approximately 64 per cent of the vote which, while higher than six years ago, when he ran in a presidential year, is not above the 1942 off-year election percentage for his party.

Senator Brewster has been in Maine public life for a long while, having served not only as governor of the state but as a member of the House of Representatives. This will be his second term in the U. S. Senate. It is interesting to note how Mr. Brewster voted on various issues which might be called outstanding rollcalls.

The record shows that Senator Brewster voted for the confirmation of Secretary Wallace for the Department of Commerce, against the confirmation of Aubrey Williams as rural electrification administrator, against the extension of the Trade Agreements Act, in favor of the $250,000 appropriation for the Federal Employment Practices Commission, for the United Nations Charter, for the Cloture Rule to cut off debate on the Federal Employment Practices Commission Bill, against the loan to Great Britain, in favor of making unions suable for breach of law secondary boycotts in labor disputes, in favor of making subject to the Anti-Racketeering Bill, in favor of the Case Bill which vetoed, against a bill that would strike out labor injunctions, in favor of the President's Strike Control Bill introduced after the railroad crisis last spring, against the Equal Rights Amendment sponsored by women's groups, and in favor of the O.P.A. Revival Bill.

It is difficult to tell from the above record just what the Maine voters said by their verdict at the polls for no one issue was paramount. The important fact is that the state of Maine likes Republicans and if they run in an off-year when the Democrats do not organize particularly well, their chances of polling a high percentage vote are better than in presidential years.

The weather in Maine, of course, is always a factor in judging the size of the vote. When there is bad weather the vote in the rural districts, which is heavily Republican, doesn't get to the polls in as large numbers as when there is fair weather. In the cities where the Democratic vote is heavy the weather makes little difference. It is important to consider the weather if one is examining vote percentages, especially in an election where the result is a foregone conclusion and where the element of contest is absent. Many voters do not take the trouble to vote in elections which are one-sided and hence the percentage obtained by Senator Brewster might have been larger if some special effort to get out the vote had been made.

The conclusion must be reached, therefore, that the Maine election does not indicate that the Republicans in Maine are any less Republican than they have been or that the Democrats have any particular momentum left for their party in Maine as a consequence of the Roosevelt leadership. The trend in the nation will have to be discovered in other states, especially in the middle west where the Republicans may make substantial gains this autumn.

PEPPER WANTS THE PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION
Senator Claude Pepper is in the running for the presidential nomination. Naturally, the strategists of C.I.O.-P.A.C., I.C.C.A.S.P. and comrade groups are not yet ready to announce their white hope; but figure it out for yourself.

The Senator swung all the way across the continent last week to orate at the Hollywood Bowl under the booking of the Independent Citizens Committee of Arts, Sciences and Professions, then ranged up the coast to San Francisco for a repeat performance.

At the Bowl he got a warm, red welcome such as you would not expect of an orange-growing California politician. He rendered the proud representative of orange-growing Florida. No Chamber of Commerce innuendoes. A hundred piece symphony orchestra with Arthur Rubinstein at the piano, Frankie Sinatra swooning between numbers, a mixed Negro and White chorus that was tremendous.

Pepper attacked Americans who "want to draw a cordon sanitaire around Russia . . . those foolish people who tell us we can never get along with Russia." He defended in an interesting way the Communist Daily World the Soviet's dictatorial veto power, her right to overflow into the Mediterranean and, by implication, to push Turkey aside and take the Dardanelles.

On the domestic front he championed socialized medicine, the unfair "Fair Employment Practice" act and a comparatively new Pepper brain child: a federal loan to every girl and boy to finance his through college with the student's signature as security. If wanted to ask whether he would advise youth coming out of college under a $4,000 debt to struggle for years to repay the loan or just turn criminal and repudiate it.

All about in front of the Bowl men hawked the Communist Daily World in which a special section carried a special greeting from Pepper, and I was reminded of how this paper and the official Communist organ, the Daily Worker, have played up the senator's prod and how the Red senator some time ago commanded that utterly irresponsible gutter Communist newsletter, "In Fact," to do its good work, and of how Pepper wrote an introduction to the Communist propaganda book "The Great Conspiracy Against Russia," and of how he is identified with many "fronts" including I. C. C. A. S. P. which sponsored his appearance at the Bowl and which is headed by well-known Comrade Jo Davidson and which, according to the "liberal" Philadelphia Record, is "well sprinkled with Communists."

I also was reminded of how Senator Pepper went all the way to Moscow last fall to see in person the Great Red Father, Joseph Stalin. In consequence of his record Pepper is the logical man for the Democratic nomination in 1948—by leaving New Deal logic. He left the way open for the invitation when he said at the Bowl he was a "well sprinkled with Communists."

FITNESS

A recent funny cartoon showed a woman departing from a "cooking class." In her arms were some kitchen utensils and she was telling a passer-by that she had "home work" to do.

I believe that aside from the humorous angle of the cartoon we all see the good sense of home work, doing our own thinking and using the knowledge we have acquired from class instruction of any kind.

At the meeting of the Canadian Physical Education Association held in Winnipeg, Arthur H. Steinhilber, Ph.D., M.P.E., Professor of Physiology, George Williams College, Chicago, discussed Fitness — a Definition and a Guide to its Attainment.

"Always fitness has implied the ability to meet some form of opposition, that is, fitness for a purpose. The fundamental purpose of fitness is to assure survival — for animals survival on an animal plane — for human beings, survival on a human plane. This means survival of the body of man, survival of the mind of man, yes, survival of the spirit of man. Consequently human fitness is a complex of many parts.

After discussing various forms of exercise, those taken under outside instruction and those taken from inside instruction, that is from the individual's own will, Dr. Steinhilber states that for tomorrow's fitness program we must learn to give better remedies (forms of exercise): "home work" must be prescribed. The gymnasium must become the classroom or consultation room. Why should the exercise be spoon-fed to the tune of the teacher's whistle or count? The youngster should be taught the "whys and wherefores" of physical activities so that when he does an exercise he will know just what that exercise is doing for his body and mind, and "sports" will take on meaning as developers of power, poise and spirit." Must we endlessly exercise people as we do dogs and horses?

Why is "home work" in exercise so helpful in acquiring all round fitness?

It develops physical fitness because the systematic or "regular" exercise of a muscle increases its strength, stores up "reserve" energy by requiring less blood pressure and using less heart beats to do the same work.

It develops mental and even spiritual fitness because the individual uses his will power to do his daily exercise when he does not have to do it.

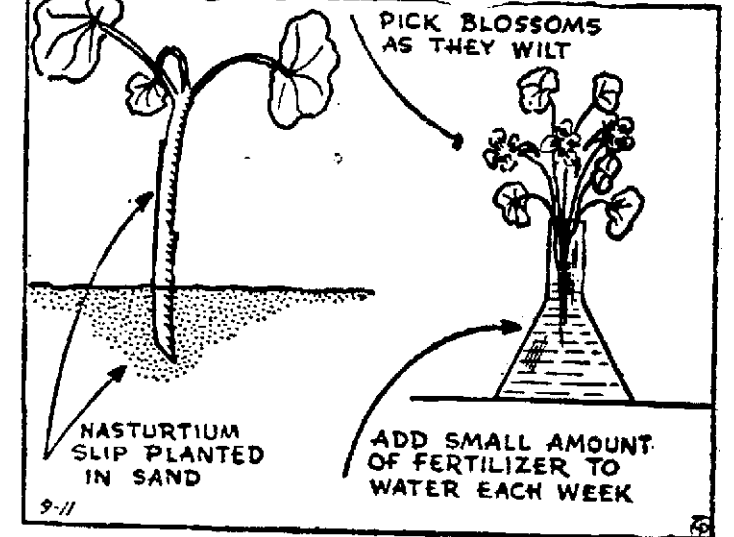

Dr. Barton's New "Handbook of Health" Or Keeping Fit For Your Job
So many requests have come to Dr. Barton for a handy home health guide that he has published this 100-page cloth bound book, and is making it available for readers of The Kingston Daily Freeman for $1 instead of the usual publisher's price of $2 or $3.

Please send $1 to Dr. J. W. Barton, care of the Bell Syndicate, Inc., 217 West 43rd Street, New York 18, N. Y., for your copy of "Handbook of Health."

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Taking Nasturtiums Indoors Successfully

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

NASTURTIUMS can be taken indoors at this time. But potting them for this purpose often leads to disappointment. A better way is to take slips of the plants before they are damaged by frost and plant them for rooting purposes. In this way you can have nasturtiums blooming indoors this winter.

Root the slips in moist sand or in a sand and peat mixture, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Use the tips of young shoots. They should be three to four inches long. The slips will root in four or five days. Afterwards they can be potted in a soil mixture that is

Farmer to Face Charge of Murder

Dover, Del., Sept. 11 (AP)—A 50-year-old overall-clad farmer who walked into a sheriff's office with a shotgun cradled in his arms and calmly announced he had just shot a State Welfare Board woman worker to keep four of his children from being placed in a home, awaited arraignment today.

Deputy Attorney General Henry Ridgely said the farmer, whom he identified as Thomas Griffith, of Sandtown, about 25 miles west of here, would be arraigned on a murder charge in connection with the fatal shooting yesterday of Ruth Reinecke, 50, the social worker, in her automobile at Griffith's home. Griffith has not been formally charged.

Great Shakes
Great politicians understand, as their careers extend, just when it's time to shake a head. And when to shake a friend.

Man—I think that language was made to conceal thought.

Man—You wouldn't think so if you once heard my wife tell me what she thinks of me.

"The money the other fellow has is capital. Getting it away from him is labor."

Man—Have you seen the candidate yet?

Friend—Yes; he flew over our house this morning and dropped down a lot of political literature and threw a kiss to the baby.

If love is a flower, it must be a species of orchid. For it generally thrives on hot air.

Man—I had a very queer dream last night, darling. I dreamed a strange man was running off with you.

Wife—What did you say to him?

Man—I asked him what he was running for.

It is a wise man who is never too busy to be courteous.

The services in the chapel of a certain western university are conducted from time to time by eminent clergymen of many denominations and from various cities.

On one occasion, when one of these visiting divines asked the president of the university how long he should speak, the witty official replied:

University President—There is no limit, doctor, upon the time you may preach; but I may tell you that there is a tradition here that the most souls are saved during the first 20 minutes.

Grocer (glaring at his delivery boy)—Where have you been for the past two hours?

Delivery Boy—Mrs. Jones asked me to have a baked potato.

Grocer—That shouldn't take very long.

Delivery Boy—Well, I had just brought her the potatoes.

Man—The doctors now say that low-necked dresses ward off pneumonia.

Friend—Well, I was at a swell restaurant last night where the girls seemed to be trying to ward off lumbago as well.

We all have more common sense than we make use of.

Still, It Wasn't Quintuplets

"Triplets," the nurse said grinning. After the manner of such.

The father, his poor head spinning. Cried: "Oh, this is two too much!"

All men are considered good until they are found out.

An old bachelor was asked which he thought were the happier, people who were married or those who were not.

Bachelor—Well, I don't know.

Sometimes I think there is as many as is that ain't, as ain't that is.

Producer—His aunt just died and cut him off with a penny.

Director—Ah, sort of a penny ante.

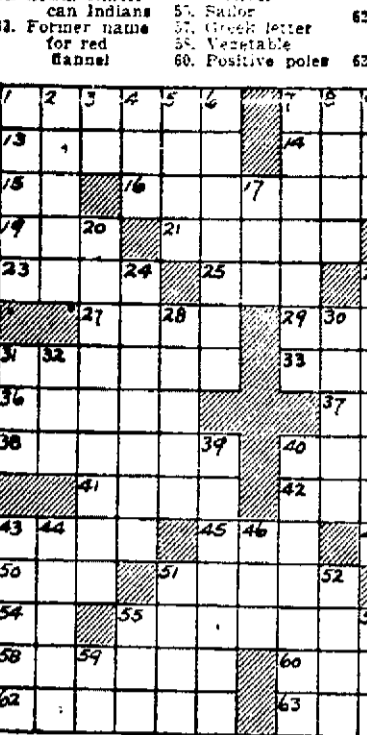

Women Find Rare Crab

Two women marine zoologists of Sydney found the second specimen ever discovered of a crab species that has evaded capture on the Australian coast for 140 years—the Latriell camouflaged crab, first discovered in 1806 by the French scientists, Peron and Lascaux. Found near Moruya on the coast of New South Wales, this crab is so effectively disguised by its suit of seaweed that only a skilled eye would detect it.

Foreign Policy May Become Big Issue In Fall Elections

Reece Hits Policies Which Are Dictated, He Says, by Clique Alien-Minded

(By The Associated Press)
Signs accumulated today that foreign policy, subordinated during wartime political campaigns, may become a major issue in this fall's congressional elections.

Secretary of Commerce Wallace has served notice that he, for one, intends to raise it directly when he makes a political speech in New York tomorrow.

He told reporters he will discuss what he referred to as the Republican contribution to peace after the first World War and the one the Republicans might make "after this war—I they get a chance."

Rumblings in the direction of making foreign policy an issue have come from the Republican camp.

Senator Styles Bridges (R-NH) called into administration policy toward Yugoslavia after Marshal Tito's army shot down an American transport plane, killing five aboard it.

Reece Cites 'Dictation'

Carroll Reece, G.O.P. national chairman, in a radio address at Detroit yesterday asserted that Democratic Party policies are "dictated by an alien-minded clique."

Missouri Republicans, in convention at Jefferson City, adopted a platform hitting at Communism as the nation's greatest peril and describing President Truman as "leader of an administration which permitted growth of 'this ungodly ideological monster.'"

Missouri Democrats, also convened at Jefferson City yesterday, approved a platform calling Mr. Truman a "distinguished Missourian" who "in the tradition of the late President Roosevelt" is leading the nation from a war economy to a "sound and substantial peace economy."

Candidate-picking for the November tests goes on today with Rhode Island Democrats holding their nominating convention. State Republicans nominated Gurnee Dyer, a former lieutenant colonel of the air forces for the Senate yesterday. The seat now is held by Senator Peter G. Gerry, Democrat, who decided not to seek reelection.

Baldwin Nominated

In Connecticut, Republicans nominated Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin for senator and Dr. James L. McConaughy, retired Wesleyan University president, for governor. Democrats do their picking next week. Senator Thomas C. Hart, Republican, chose to re-elect.

Five Democratic congress members with opposition won renomination in Louisiana's primary. Rep. A. Leonard Allen ran two to one ahead of George S. Long, brother of the late Senator Huey P. Long, in the Eighth District.

The feature of Colorado's primary was the victory of John A. Carroll, backed by the C.I.O.-P.A.C. and other labor groups, over Thomas W. Nevin for the Democratic nomination from the First District.

Vitamin A in Water

Increases Its Value

Chicago, Sept. 11 (AP)—A method of raising the effectiveness of vitamin A by about three-fold by mixing it with water was reported to the American Chemical Society today.

A is one of the oil-soluble vitamins which means that it occurs in nature in oily solutions. It has been given by physicians in the oil form. Mixing the vitamin in water instead of oil was reported by Doctors Albert E. Sobel, Sidney P. Gottfried and Benjamin Kramer, of the Jewish Hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y.

They said that the ratery A puts eight times more of this vitamin into the blood of human beings than the oil-soluble vitamin.

This, they declared, has been a boon for certain children's diseases, where the youngsters failed to absorb enough vitamin A. In all cases, they said, much better absorption of the vitamin was obtained from the water solution.

They reported that there is a world shortage of Vitamin A and that the water mixture will help this shortage because normally less of the vitamin is needed when given in water.

Morris Soudak and Dr. Leopold Grecedo, of Fordham University, New York, reported discovery of an anti-vitamin that counteracts vitamin B-one.

Outhouse Removal, $1.47

Waterville, Ia., Sept. 11 (AP)—It cost E. H. Hily of Cedar Falls, $1.47 because he removed an out-house from a property he was renting to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Michel. Federal court records disclosed that Hily paid $30 restitution to the O.P.A. and $31.75 costs in settlement of a suit in which O.P.A. charged removal of the accommodation violated rent control regulations. The removal had left the Michel without toilet facilities.

Trial Ordered

London, Sept. 11 (AP)—Neville George Heath, former R.A.F. pilot, today was ordered to stand September 24 for the slaying of Mrs. Margaret Gardner, 33-year-old home extra and commercial artist whose mud and mutilated body was found in a London hotel room last June. Heath, 29, also is under indictment for the slaying of Miss Karen Marshall, pretty ex-Wren, 24, pleaded innocent to both charges.

MORGAN LINE GUARD—Pfc. A. Akiyama (left), Clowis, Calif., and Pfc. John R. Ishu, Denver, guard an American outpost on the Isonzo River at Sago in Venezia Giulia. Both are Japanese-Americans serving with the 88th Division. The bridge marks the limit of the British-American occupation zone. The Morgan Line lies atop the mountain in the background.

MOUNTAIN POST—High in the mountains in the British-American zone of Venezia Giulia, two U.S. soldiers scan the Yugoslav village and the railroad station of Batece.

MAY GO TO FRANCE—This is the Italian town of Tenda, in the Roya Valley of the Alpine foothills, which would be ceded to France along with the town of Briga under terms of the proposed peace treaty submitted to the Paris conference. Although France would be given control of the territory, Italy is guaranteed access to hydro-electric power sources.

The World Today

By GLENN BABB

AP Foreign News Analyst

The end of a dynasty used to be an event of great dramatic appeal and political import. The toppling of the Coburg dynasty in Bulgaria in Sunday's plebiscite barely made front pages for a day or two. Of course the verdict in the voting conducted by the Communist-dominated government was a foregone conclusion. It followed the totalitarian pattern and held no surprises. But the passing of a royal house with such scant notice illustrates how far the world has changed its political values in the last generation.

The collapse of a throne three or four decades ago—when the tide began to run against monarchy—was hailed by democrats and liberals around the world as a victory for human freedom. Many can recall the joy and hope which greeted the abdication of the Manchus in China, the revolution that toppled the last of the Czars in Russia, the last days of the German and Austro-Hungarian Empire, the overthrow of the Sultan in Turkey.

There is nothing like that today. The ousting of little 9-year-old Simeon in Bulgaria and the recall of George II to Greece alike are without significance for the future of monarchical institutions. Both were just moves in the power politics of the great nations. The question of monarchy or republic is of little meaning in the conflict of the vastly greater political, economic and social forces the two world wars have loosed. Men have learned that a despot need not occupy a throne, that there are far more terrible tyrannies than those that wore a crown.

Reduced to Impotence

The Bulgarian monarchy long since had been reduced to impotence. The little king and his widowed Italian mother had been virtual prisoners of the Soviet-fostered fatherland front regime. Their departure from Bulgaria—assuming they will be permitted to join Queen Joanna's exiled father, Vittorio Emanuele of Italy, in Egypt—will be only an incident in the process of establishing a belt of Soviet satellites between the Soviet state and western Europe.

Simeon is the third king to be deposed in that process. By very similar methods Peter of Yugoslavia and Zog of Albania have been shoved aside within the last year and supplanted by rulers of the stamp approved by Moscow.

How much longer the third of the Balkan boy kings, young Mihail of Romania, will be permitted to act as figurehead for Petru Groza's Communist-dominated regime remains to be seen.

The passing of the Balkan monarchies would call for few regrets in the western world on account of any virtues of their own. They represented a not very admirable interlude between the decline of an eastern despotism, the Ottoman Empire, and the westward surge of another eastern power, the Red Russian. If they were to be replaced by democracies of the western pattern the downfall of these kings would bolster hopes for the future, but the non-Russian nations expect little good from the "People's Republics" which replace them.

The situation in Bulgaria gives new prominence in the Communist leader there, Georgi Dimitrov, veteran of four decades of battle on the political-ideological front, the first antedating the rise of Lenin and Trotsky. He was the central figure in the Reichstag fire drama which Goering and Goebbels used

Woodstock Guild Has Had a Banner Year

Woodstock, Sept. 11—The annual meeting of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen will be held at the Guild center September 16 at 3 p. m. There will be election of officers and chairmen for the coming year and reports from the various departments are expected to be most interesting, reflecting the growth of the guild, which has had a very active year.

Three valuable new services have been added to the Guild shop this season. Orders can be left three for delicious home-made cakes, made by Mrs. Hiram Carl. Mr. and Mrs. Steffanson, expert leather workers, will take orders for individual handbags. They are supplying New York Fifth avenue shops with their work. Woodstockers have an opportunity to get the best right in their own Guild.

Mr. and Mrs. Sigaloff have opened an expert furniture repair shop, filling a most urgent need for refinishing and repair of fine furniture. They call for and deliver the pieces promptly. They also have some fine pieces of painted furniture for sale in the Guild and will take orders for anything to be made.

Although the Guild has had the busiest and most successful season of its career and plans to close the summer shop in a few weeks the rooms are kept full of unusual and attractive articles. It is suggested that departing summer residents do their Christmas shopping at the Guild now. Unbreakable new animals will delight children, the jewelry is tempting and copper bowls, ash trays and plates will add a lovely touch of color to any home.

County Legion Meeting Is Held

Susan Rosenwasser Is Given Medal for Her American Essay

A meeting of the Ulster County American Legion was held in the rooms of Kingston Post, No. 150, American Legion, West O'Reilly street, on Friday, September 6. The meeting was opened with the usual Legion ceremonies by County Commander Thomas Bohan. Taps was sounded on the bugle by Richard Castiglione.

Present at the meeting was the president of the County Ladies' Auxiliary, Mrs. Ernest Jansen, who introduced Miss Susan Rosenwasser who read her essay which had won first place in the county in the American Essay contest.

After her reading Miss Rosenwasser was presented with the county medal by Mrs. Jansen. Mrs. Jansen then introduced the young lady who had placed third highest in the state contest, Miss Louise Jablonsky, and after reading her essay Miss Jablonsky was presented with the state's third place award by Mrs. Jansen on behalf of the department president.

Chaplain Clarence Brown gave a resume of Past Department Commander Miles Kennedy's report on the department activities during the past year and spoke of the department membership growth from 58,573 in 1923 until in August 1945 there was a record membership of 137,481. Today that figure is almost doubled, with approximately 261,812 members. Mr. Brown referred to the report of Mr. Kennedy in which he stated that during the past year 266 new Posts had been organized in the department, making a total of 1,212 Posts.

A report was made by Mr. Brown on various important phases of the report, among them: the importance of the Rehabilitation and Service work, the foundation upon which the Legion was built. He dwelt upon the necessity of every member working in the local Post, in the county organization and on up through the higher branches and to the department and national organization so that better representation might be had and greater benefits derived for members and all ex-service men.

He referred to one portion of Mr. Kennedy's report in which he said the "number one" problem of the veteran was the getting of a job. In his report Mr. Kennedy said, "I am sorry to report that the attitude of some civilian population of everything for our heroes was prevalent all over the country during the war period has now changed to one of almost complete apathy."

Chairmen Are Named

Following the report of Mr. Brown Commander Bohan appointed the chairmen of the standing committees as follows:

Membership, Lewis Van De-mark of New Paltz.

Americanization, Donald Moore of Kingston.

Boys State, P. J. Beichert, past commander of Esopus Post of Port Jervis.

Sons of American Legion, Gordon Irvine of Walkkill, past county commander.

Oratorical, Donald Moore of Kingston.

Publicity, Howard C. Shurter, Kingston.

Athletics, N. Nardone of Highland.

Judge advocate, Walter Miller of Kingston.

The commander also named a "Constitution and By-Laws Committee" as follows: Walter Miller, chairman; John Lowther of Saugerties; William Murray of Kingston; Gilbert Tice of Walkkill and Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., of Kingston.

Mrs. Margaret Hannan was also introduced by Commander Bohan. Mrs. Hannan is associated with the U.S.O. and gave some of her personal experiences while engaged in that work. She explained the forthcoming drive by the U.S.O. in the county and John R. Mayone, county chairman of the U.S.O. drive also spoke of this work.

George Stanton of the Kingston U.S.E.S. office spoke of the work of his office and explained the reason that foreign help has been imported to help harvest the crops in Ulster county.

The next meeting will be held,

Cohen Announces Law Partnership

Will Be Associated With Forman and Kelley on John Street

HAROLD D. COHEN

Harold D. Cohen, formerly special assistant to the Attorney General of the United States at the Department of Justice, Washington, D. C., has returned to the practice of law in Kingston as a partner of Joseph H. Forman and John H. Kelley. The law firm will now be known as Forman, Kelley & Cohen, with offices at 85 John street.

Mr. Cohen is a native of Kingston and was graduated from Kingston High School in 1931. As the highest ranking student from Ulster county, in competitive examinations, he won a four-year scholarship to Cornell University, which conferred A.B. and L.L.B. degrees upon him in 1933 and 1937. At Cornell Law School he was also awarded a Law Association scholarship and was elected editor of the Law Review on the basis of his high academic standing.

During summer vacations Mr. Cohen worked as law clerk in the office of the late Frank W. Brooks, one of the outstanding trial lawyers in Ulster county. After admission to the New York Bar in 1937, Mr. Cohen was engaged in general practice in Kingston and in Ithaca for three years before going to Washington as Legal Assistant to Associate Justice H. W. Edgerton of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, the second highest court in the country, where he worked closely with the present Chief Justice of the United States, Fred M. Vinson, and Justice Wiley Rutledge, now of the Supreme Court of the United States.

F. C. C. Counsel

In 1941 Mr. Cohen was appointed Special Counsel to the Federal Communications Commission, to represent the Government, first as trial counsel and later as presiding officer, at hearings into the status and qualifications of radio broadcasting stations.

In 1943 he was appointed to the tax division of the Department of Justice where, as special assistant to the Attorney General, he tried income, estate, and gift tax cases affecting millions of dollars of internal revenue and involving fundamental principles of federal taxation. This litigation, which Mr. Cohen handled personally, took him to Federal District and Circuit Court of Appeals in various parts of the country.

He is a member of the Bars of the Supreme Court of the United States, the Tax Court, the United States Court of Claims, and the United States District Court of the Southern District of New York, and is authorized to appear before various Federal Departments and Agencies.

October 22 at Walkkill. Refrainments were prepared and served by Lester Barth and Roy Jacobs.

Kelly's Widow Hopes To Return His Body

Media, Pa., Sept. 11 (AP)—Colin Kelly III, son of the late Capt. Colin P. Kelly, Jr., legendary hero of World War II who was killed when his plane crashed while returning from a raid on Jap warships in the Philippines, may have an opportunity to visit his father's grave.

Mrs. J. Watson Pedlow, widow of Capt. Kelly, hopes to have the hero's body, which was positively identified by the War Department recently, buried at the U. S. Military Academy.

"Then," she told a reporter yesterday, "if Colin III goes to West Point, it would be nice to have his father's grave there for him to visit."

Calf at Birth Weighs Less Than Human Baby

La Junta, Colo., Sept. 11 (AP)—Birth to a Jersey cow of a perfectly formed calf weighing about nine pounds—less than many human babies—was reported today by Phil K. Hudspeth, La Junta veterinarian.

He said the animal, born on the Charles Edwards farm here Monday, was only 17 inches high and four inches wide but was fully developed and had a good chance of surviving.

Jersey calves usually weigh around 30 to 60 pounds.

Police Seek Motive For Woman Found Floating in River

Divorcee, 27, Mother of Two Children Found Bound, Weighted Near St. Louis

St. Louis, Sept. 11 (AP)—Police searched for a motive today for the murder of Mrs. Irene England Elsing, attractive 27 year old divorcee and mother of two children, whose trussed and weighted body was found floating in the Mississippi river five days after she disappeared from her home.

Her body bore no marks of violence, but her legs and feet were bound by baling wire and two seven-pound sash weights were wired to her body. A coroner's jury returned an open verdict.

Mrs. Elsing, who lived with her two small children at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. England in nearby Washington Park, Ill., was last seen a week ago while returning from Belleville, Ill. Her body was found Monday night in the Mississippi about 19 miles south of St. Louis.

Her parents told police their daughter was divorced last January from Howard Elsing, a railroad switchman, after eight years marriage. He later remarried.

ULSTER PARK

Ulster Park, Sept. 10—Mrs. John Berinato has gone to Newport, R. I., to reside. Her husband is stationed there.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

APPEAL TO STATIONERS Since my comment on the rudeness of brides who have been sending printed thanks for wedding presents instead of personally written notes, I have had innumerable letters from indignant friends of brides urging that I emphasize this outstanding rudeness.

I am making my appeal less to the brides than to the stationers who can check this threatening epidemic. After all, each bride commits this fault only once, whereas the stationer takes orders many times a day.

Here is an example of the extreme to which this rudeness can be carried. The following, attractively printed on a good quality card, actually was received by a neighbor of mine:

ACKNOWLEDGING YOUR WEDDING GIFT

No formal word of thanks can convey our appreciation, but this will let you know that your gift and the good wishes it expresses makes us both very happy.

MR. AND MRS. NONO BETTER The receiver of the above card was an aunt who sent her niece a diamond watch. As I wrote not long ago, the result certainly will be that future brides will receive no presents. There are four faults in the example—it expresses no word of personal thanks, it is printed instead of written by hand, it is signed by "Mr. and Mrs." and the signatures are printed. To compensate the stationer for any loss of orders, let me suggest that he sell smart attractive note paper with name or address, or both, stamped on it. He might proffer greeting cards with wedding design, but on which space is left for a short but personally written thank-you note.

Adam Argulewicz, Ex-Navy Man Marries Miss Dorothy F. Gill

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Eleanor Gill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gill, 82 Auburn street, to Adam Argulewicz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Argulewicz, 36 Jarrod street, was performed September 1 at 2 p. m., in the immaculate Conception Church. The Rev. Joseph Siczek officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Theresa Gehring was organist and the church choir sang. The altar was decorated with white gladioli and candles. The bride was escorted by her father. She wore a broadened satin gown made with off shoulder neckline, bustle back. Her fingertip veil was caught with two orange blossom clusters. She carried a white Prayer Book with gladioli and streamers of baby's breath. Miss Jane Argulewicz, sister of the bride as maid of honor wore a dusty pink faille gown with a headpiece of matching ostrich tips and carried an old fashioned bouquet of pink, blue and white roses bound with matching streamers. The bride's mother wore a gray dress with black accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore an aqua dress with black accessories. Both had corsages of pink roses. Walter Gill, brother of the bride was best man. Ushers were Paul Argulewicz and Frank Argulewicz, brothers of the bridegroom.

Seventy guests attended the reception and wedding dinner at the Yacht Club. The tables were decorated with flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Argulewicz left for a wedding trip to Lake George. For traveling the bride wore a powder blue suit with black accessories and a corsage of white gladioli. They are making their home with the bride's parents for the present. Both the bride and bridegroom attended Kingston High School. Mrs. Argulewicz is employed by Manhattan Shirt Co. Mr. Argulewicz is employed by Pilgrim Furniture Co. He served in the navy two and one-half years and was aboard the U.S.S. Cooper, destroyer that was sunk.

Conference Held By Lewis, U.M.W. And Mine Workers

By HAROLD W. WARD
Washington, Sept. 11 (AP)—John L. Lewis and a large delegation of United Mine Workers district presidents met with soft coal operators today in a move to restore the federally-controlled mines to private operation.

The government, anxious to get out of the coal mining business into which it was thrust by last spring's strike, called the parties together to see if they could negotiate a contract for themselves. Most of the administrative work of running the mines has been performed by new personnel, headed by Adm. Ben Moreell, as coal mines administrator. Lewis voiced his usual "no comment" as he strode unsmiling into the big Interior Department conference room. He was flanked by a score of district presidents from areas east of the Mississippi river who form the subcommittee of the miners' scale and policy group. Operators, headed by Chairman Ezra Van Horn of Cleveland and Charles O'Neill of Altoona, Pa., likewise were noncommittal about the prospects for reaching a settlement which would make possible a return to private operation. It was the first miner-management meeting in nearly four months.

schedule of payment is 50 percent of the revenue derived to the company and 50 per cent to the city. The cost of the meters is $68 each. According to Alderman Frank Oulton, chairman of the traffic control committee, it is estimated that 743 meters are needed, and that number will be installed. With the signing of the contract yesterday it is expected that the work of installing the meters will be started in the near future by the Dual Co. The meters will be installed for a six months trial period. If, at the end of that period, the city desires the meters removed they will be removed by the company without expense to the city.

Expects Million To Be Laid Off

Association in New York Gives Picture of Strikes Results

New York, Sept. 11 (AP)—Approximately 1,270,000 New Yorkers have been or soon will be temporarily laid off their jobs if the maritime and trucker strikes continue, the Commerce and Industry Association of New York reported today.

The city's industrial picture, created by the strike of 40,000 A.F.L. seamen and longshoremen and A.F.L. truckers and by unestimated other thousands who walked out in sympathy.

Electric power—Plants of the Consolidated Edison Company of New York have enough fuel to continue normal operations for only a few days more.

Printing and newspapers—Deliveries of more than 1,000,000 school textbooks for the country are being delayed. All newspapers except one, are reduced in size, by next week several will have no newsprint left.

Garments—Lay-offs have begun and "will run into the thousands" by the end of the week.

Beer—No deliveries; a meeting today to decide whether truckers will relent for the thirsty.

Coal—Deliveries 60 per cent below normal.

Fuel Oil—Virtually no more is being shipped in.

Construction—Stoppage of deliveries is delaying all types of construction, including housing, and causing lay-offs.

Food—Stores reported heavy buying. Meat supplies were at rock bottom. Chain stores had virtually no perishable food. Sugar supplies were low. Many bakeries were threatening to close by the end of the week.

tor and a World War One veteran, was described by Fitzpatrick as "a vigorous, conscientious fighter in the interests of the people."

There were these viewpoints on the minor front:

The Liberal party, which previously had endorsed Mead for governor and Herbert H. Lehman, Democratic candidate for U. S. senator, named Democratic nominees for other major state posts following declarations of previously selected candidates.

The American Labor Party completed its designation of all Democratic candidates for major state offices with the designation of Anthony J. Di Giovanni for attorney general in place of Joseph J. Luchini, original A.L.P. nominee, who declined.

A Bronx Democratic leader said his party might institute court action to keep the Communist, Socialist, Industrial Government and Socialist Workers' parties off the ballot.

Would Unite Against Dewey Robert Thompson, state chairman of the Communist Party and its candidate for comptroller, reiterated in a statewide radio broadcast (A.B.C.) that his party wanted "a coalition of labor and independent forces in a common electoral front with the Democratic party against Dewey."

Thompson is the only Communist candidate, all others having declined. The party has not substituted as yet for the vacancies. But Simon W. Gerson, party campaign manager, said yesterday that other nominations were being considered and at least one other Communist might yet be named.

Alluding to possible Communist support of the Democrats, Fitzpatrick said:

"I want to repeat what was said at the convention. It's in our platform, and Mr. Mead said he didn't want and would not accept support of any Communist or Fascist, or any member or friend of the Ku Klux Klan. We can't make any clearer statement."

Louis Cohen, who identified himself as secretary of the Bronx Democratic Committee, said party workers were examining independent nominating petitions filed with the State Election Bureau by the Communists, Socialists, Industrial Government and Socialist Worker's parties.

He said that if his group became convinced that irregularities existed in the petitions, it would seek a court order to invalidate them.

merce telegraphed President Truman that there would be an almost complete stoppage of industrial production in that borough by the end of the week if the strike continued. It suggested immediate intervention by John R. Steelman, director of war mobilization and reconversion.

"Hundreds of plants in Brooklyn alone have already been forced to suspend," the chamber said.

William Mapel, vice-chairman of the Publishers Association of New York City, said that several of the city's newspapers would have to stop publication next week if the strike continued.

Coal Deliveries Low Deliveries of coal to the city already were 60 per cent below normal. Herbert E. Flaff, regional representative of the Solid Fuels Administration, reported, while a spokesman for the giant garment industry said that widespread lay-offs already had begun and that if the walkout were not ended they "will run into thousands by the end of the week."

A wave of buying stripped grocers' shelves of canned goods and other staples.

John E. Strong, president of Local 807, told newsmen he did not see what Tobin could do to get the men back to work in the absence of any new wage offer from the employers.

"I think it will be two weeks before the men cool off," he said.

He also denied that the union officers had lost control of the members, who recently refused to vote on a compromise proposal advanced by O'Dwyer to settle the walkout and approved by the union leaders.

Thunderstorm Breaks Sweltering Heat Wave

The thunder and lightning storm that broke over the city last night brought relief from the sweltering heat that had enveloped the city since last Saturday, and the weather was much cooler this morning. The lowest temperature recorded last night by the official thermometer was 65 degrees.

Yesterday was the hottest day so far experienced this month in the city with the mercury in the official thermometer reaching a high of 91 degrees. The lowest temperature yesterday was 67 degrees.

The rain that fell last night was badly needed, as the ground is parched for lack of moisture.

Total Registration in Schools

The total registration for 1946 in the Kingston public schools shows an increase of 210 over the 1945 enrollment, according to a report submitted to the Board of Education last night by Superintendent of Schools Arthur Laidlaw.

The elementary school registration increased by 75, with 2,399 registered for 1946 as against 2,324 in 1945.

The Myron J. Michael registration remained almost static, while the high school increased its enrollment from 1,542 to 1,667. Grand total for the entire city is 4,726 for 1946 against 4,516 for 1945.

The parochial schools increased their enrollment from 1,033 in 1945 to 1,111 for the 1946 term.

nual salary of $2,000. Hilda Yerry was appointed a substitute teacher in the elementary schools at a salary of $1,800. Robert E. Lee was appointed a teacher of Machine Shop Practice at a salary of $2,600.

Thelma Schwab was appointed a substitute teacher in the Myron J. Michael School at a salary of $1,900.

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Marion B. Kershaw, Anna Shields Lyons, Mary E. Ryan and Kenneth G. Appleton.

Grace S. Van Gonsic was granted a year's leave of absence for the year 1946-1947 in accordance with her request and the statement by her physician.

Mrs. Blanche H. O'Leary was granted a maternity leave of absence extending from July 12, 1946 to September 1, 1946.

M.J.M. for Recreation The Recreation Department was granted use of the Myron J. Michael School gymnasium for basketball four nights a week, subject to the following conditions:

(a) That scheduled school functions and school activities shall have first priority and consideration.

(b) That there shall be no cost to the Board of Education.

(c) That the Recreation Department furnish competent supervision approved by the Board of Education.

(d) That the gym be left in a clean and orderly condition following each night when it is used by the Department of Recreation.

(e) That any damage or breakage shall be paid for by the Department of Recreation.

Payrolls Authorized The president and clerk of the board were authorized to issue warrants in payment of the payroll amounting to $10,231.20 and general vouchers amounting to $5,057.18 for the month of July, 1946; also the payroll of $10,428.21 and general vouchers amounting to $41,939.14 for the month of August; general vouchers in the sum of $4,464.20 and R.W.P.T. amounting to $95 for the month of September.

Superintendent of Schools Laidlaw was aware of these plans.

Bert Bishop, chairman of the arrangements committee for the play, said he regretted that the Board of Education took such action.

"We're in a tight spot now," Mr. Bishop said. "We have contracted for the play and we're at a point where we have to act quickly." He indicated the Lions would have no choice but to stage the play at the municipal auditorium where law was granted leave to attend the State School Superintendent's Convention to be held at Saranac Lake on September 23, 24 and 25.

Propose Closing Marius Street The Board was advised in a communication from City Clerk McAndrew that the Board's request to close Marius street between Wall street and Washington avenue for playground purposes was a matter under the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Works.

A resolution offered by Trustee Andrew Cook was adopted requesting the Board of Public Works to close Marius street for "athletic purposes and such other uses as the Board of Education may elect." Members of the Board felt that this new playground would compensate somewhat for the loss of Barmann Park to an industrial concern.

Superintendent Laidlaw reported that the National Cash Register Company had promised delivery of new cash registers for the high school cafeteria in February or March, 1947.

Reports on Building Projects Trustee William Leech, chairman of the Building Committee, reported all projects planned for improvement of school properties had either been completed or were in the process of completion depending on the availability of building materials.

Upon notification by the Poughkeepsie Iron and Metal Co., that the construction of a fire escape could not be started for months, the Building Committee canceled the contract and awarded a new one to the Ashley Welding Co. of Kingston. The Poughkeepsie firm had previously been awarded the contract through bids.

Insurance Coverage The Building Committee was authorized to investigate the question of liability insurance at the Athletic Field where Kingston High School squads are holding football practice.

Trustee Cook called to the attention of the Board the need for more adequate insurance coverage on the school buildings due to the greatly increased repetitive costs. The Finance Committee was authorized to secure such additional coverage required after consultation with various insurance agencies.

tested that the proceeds of the show "Life With Father" would go toward the organization's sight conservation program.

Roger Baer, chairman of the Controlling Committee of the Lions, expressed bitter disappointment at the Board's action.

"I can't understand their action," he said. "The proceeds would go for a movement that is for the welfare of the city and cannot be construed in any sense as a selfish project or one to raise funds for our general fund."

"Our sight conservation program is a marvelous thing," he continued, "and we feel it benefits the entire city."

Meant to Help School Mr. Baer stated that the Lions Club had planned to expand its sight conservation program this year by setting up a sight conservation room in one of the grammar schools of Kingston. He said Superintendent of Schools Laidlaw was aware of these plans.

Bert Bishop, chairman of the arrangements committee for the play, said he regretted that the Board of Education took such action.

"We're in a tight spot now," Mr. Bishop said. "We have contracted for the play and we're at a point where we have to act quickly." He indicated the Lions would have no choice but to stage the play at the municipal auditorium where

Mr. Bishop said, everybody knows the acoustics are pretty bad. George E. Yerry, president of the Lions Club, said he thought the Board's action was "ill-advised."

Cities Communications Prior to discussion of the matter by trustees of the Board of Education, president Bernard Feeney explained that two communications were involved.

Mr. Feeney said the original application for use of the hall was extremely vague and that he had requested that it be re-submitted. This was done by the Lions Club but contents of the second application also did not meet state law requirements, the Board contended.

K. A. A. Starts Special Fund for Promotion of Sports for Kids

Culloton's Appeal Gets Full Approval Of Club's Members

$650 Approximate Profit Raised From Recent Game; Meeting Slated Next Monday

The first organized step to make way for the ultimate promotion of sports for the youth of this city was taken at a meeting of the Kingston Athletic Association Tuesday evening at the Elks' Club on Fair street when members voted to place all money accrued from athletic contests into a separate fund for such promotions.

Judge Bernard "Bud" Culloton, who managed the Hudson Valley Junior baseball team in the recent night game at municipal stadium, proposed this action in a motion from the floor. It was followed by a like appeal made by Warren Smith. After a short debate a full vote of acceptance was recorded.

Last night's action came as a result of the recent baseball game which netted the Kingston Athletic Association a sum of $650 clear profit as announced by President Tommy Davitt. Under the motion and decision made Tuesday night all money raised from special organized sport events will be used in a special fund for the promotion of organized sports for the youth of this city.

The sum of $650, which is still an approximate figure, launches this special expenditure fund. It will not be used for any general use of the K.A.A. but just for the promotion of sports.

Before Judge Culloton's motion was voted upon, the members voiced the opinion that the special fund should not be used only for the promotion of baseball—but for all sports. After this amendment was studied the measure received a full vote of confidence from all members.

Throughout last night's meeting members voted appreciation to Judge Culloton, manager; and his assistants, Jim Volker and Jimmy Morgan; Joe Messinger and Fred Davi who did their utmost in making the recent baseball game a huge success. President Davitt, on behalf of the club, presented Mr. Davi with a pen and pencil set for his great contribution in bringing Joe DiMaggio, George Stinewiss and Charlie Keller to Kingston.

Bruhn Lauds Association
District Attorney Louis H. Bruhn attended Tuesday's meeting and after joining the association he spoke to the members and lauded the entire association.

He pledged his fullest support to the future.

President Davitt appointed Warren F. Smith as chairman of the committee on promotion of sports activities for the coming year. Mr. Smith will select several K.A.A. members to assist him.

Larry Glennon, chairman of the Kingston Athletic Association's football team, addressed the assembly and announced that the team would begin the 1946 season Sunday, September 22. The first home game for the K.A.A.-backed team will be played at municipal stadium Saturday evening, September 28.

The Kingston Athletic Association voted power to Glennon to have season tickets printed for the full year. An advanced sale of tickets will begin shortly.

Gus Steigewald, veteran trainer in other years, was selected for the same post on this year's K.A.A. semi-pro football team.

Meeting Next Monday
The next meeting of the Kingston Athletic Association will be held next Monday evening, September 16, starting at 8 o'clock at the Elks' Club.

Game Is Changed
The Gov. Clinton-Morgan baseball game, originally scheduled for tonight, has been changed to Thursday night at Hasbrouck Park.

Baseball Pact Now Waits Ratification; Few Differences

Minimum Wage of $5,000, Plus $25 Weekly in Training, Pension Are Big Points

New York, Sept. 11 (AP)—National League players and the major league club owners are near complete agreement on a 10-point reform platform that now awaits only formal ratification at a meeting between the athletes' representatives and magnates next Monday in New York.

Dixie Walker of Brooklyn, who has been elected to represent the National League players on the new executive council that replaced the old advisory council, said there were few differences of opinion on the 10-day reform.

A $5,000 minimum wage, $25 per week during spring training, elimination of the 10-day release clause and a pension and security fund are the major points of the platform.

Walker outlined the program point by point yesterday in a press conference before the Dodgers' game with Cincinnati.

The platform:
A $5,000 minimum effective at the cutting down rate. Rookie players may be signed at less than $5,000 but must be advanced to that level once they have spent 45 days in the big leagues.

The 10-day release clause has been eliminated to be replaced by 30 days of severance pay and expenses home for a released player.

Extra $10 Is Asked
The owners offer $25 a week for players' expenses during spring training. The players are also asking an extra $10 for laundry and cleaning.

If a player is released because of an injury, he is to be paid a full season's salary.

Contracts must be sent out before February 1, effective in 1948. The old date was February 15.

Players are permitted to barnstorm after the close of the season for 30 days, instead of 10 days.

Clubs are not to schedule doubleheaders following night games, unless necessary to complete the season's schedule. (Walker said the players were unanimously opposed to the proposed 189-game schedule but made no official demand for repeal pending action by the majors).

The players are to work out a pension and security fund before the annual meeting in December at Los Angeles.

The players want their expenses home paid at the close of each season. The owners made no mention of this in their platform.

Players are willing to compromise on the waiver rule, asking a limit of two waivers on any player, with the understanding that a club claiming a player for the second time should buy him for $7,500.

BOWLING

Mixed League

Before the Mixed Bowling League opened its 1946-47 season at the Central Recreation alleys last Saturday night officers for the ensuing year were elected. The complete slate is as follows: Ross Schatzel, president; Sam Moss, vice president; Evelyn Francis, secretary; and Len Freer, treasurer.

In the matches that followed the Colonials, paced by Bob Myers' 324 triple and Edna Peterson's 217 single, walloped Ferraris in all three games. Johnny Ferraro was high for the losers with 535.

Kaye Sportswair captured two from Sangis with Rose and Johnny Schatzel leading the way with 557 and 543 triples. J. Schatzel's single of 425 was high in that class.

Johnny Sangis and George Castor posted 506 and 504 triples for the losing five.

Leventhals took all three from Evans, Chris Backman hit 509 for the winning legklers while Bud Evans had 490, Ed Ougheltree and Backman smashed out 196 singles.

The S.J.S.'s made a clean sweep from Wilbers behind Percy Slover's rocking 214 and 416 scores. Art Jansen hit 503. Harry Wilber's 509 three-timer paced the losers.

Booster League

The Booster Bowling League opened its new season at the Central Rec alleys Tuesday night. Sams won two from the S. and C. Kingston Oil won two from I.M.M.

Carringtons won a pair from Chez Emile, Montgomery & Ward took all three from Worfs on forfeit. B'nai Brith took a complete sweep from Ramseys, Perry's copied two from Moose Lodge, 970, Greenhill Rest won two from Co. B, 56th Inf., and Lincoln Park Inn walloped Habers in all three matches.

Good Neighbor League

Rudolph's Jewelers and B'nai Brith opened the Good Neighbor Bowling League Monday night with rounds of three victories.

Rudolph's hammered out three victories over the Strand Stationery club with M. Levy leading the way with 529. K. Wojcio posted 425 the Strands.

G. Goldfarb and Lurie paced B'nai Brith to three decisions over Leventhals with triples of 524 and 518. J. Singer hit 495 for the losers.

Masons took two from the Suntags without a 500 bowler. S. Mason and D. Levy hit 487 and 483 for the winners while Sam Marcus registered 434 for Suntags.

Coming through with a two pin edge in the final game, the I.M.M. legklers eked out a double win over the Kingston Stationery team. I.M.M. took the first match 706-682 but the Stationery five rallied in the second to win 789-742.

The final match found I.M.M. with 696 as against 694 for the losers. Herm Krenpel had 464 for the winners while H. Tirsch slammed 493 for the losers.

Central Rec League

The following officers were chosen to lead the Central Rec Bowling League for the coming season: Stan Warren, president; Mike Amato, vice-president; and George Robinson, secretary-treasurer.

The league will open its 1946-47 season next Tuesday night at the Central Recreation alleys starting at 7 o'clock. The league will operate on a no handicap system this year.

Next week's opening schedule is as follows:

Rookie Says Golf's Old Guard Is Out at Seams

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 11 (AP)—Professional golf's "old guard" is beginning to show wear at the seams, says rookie Freddie Haas, Jr., who adds that the time is ripe for newcomers to make their bid for the gold along the P.G.A.'s tournament trail.

The reason I turned pro when I did was that I thought many of the game's consistent money winners were getting tired or slowing up and there were few new men coming up to challenge them," the 30-year-old former Walker Cup star said.

Haas, of New Orleans, turned pro shortly after scoring a surprise victory in the Memphis Open last year. Since then he has played in 18 tournaments and has finished in the money in 15 of them, winning more than $5,000.

Better Golf

By SAM SNEAD

3. Yesterday, we discussed the importance of thinking always of the swing itself and avoiding letting your thoughts roam to the possible results. But, since a swing is composed of many parts, obviously you cannot think of them all during a swing. But, as you gradually acquire skill, much of your swing will become automatic.

Your stance, balance, hip and shoulder pivots, face-head positions will be something you won't need to think about if, as you practice, you compile good golf habits. And, as you gather knowledge and skill, you will begin to pick out your one or two fundamental flaws. Let's say you're today's pictured player and that you usually slice. More likely than not, your slice is due to your hands being ahead of the clubhead at impact. Then obviously, the thing to do is to think only of that one part of your swing. The correction is in making sure that you pour more hand-and-vest action into the shot during the last third of the down-swing. Use those hands.

Sox Refuse Bids For Series Tickets

Club Is Snowed Under and Down Easterners Come First

Boston, Sept. 11 (AP)—Snowed under by an estimated half million requests for a potential 75,000 World Series tickets, Red Sox spokesmen said today that the club would accept no more applications for the precious duets.

At the same time, a U. S. Internal Revenue Department spokesman said that the government would "back to the limit" any local prosecutions against persons selling tickets above established prices.

Any mailed or telegraphed application dated or timed after September 10 won't even be opened. They'll be returned to the sender.

In addition, only New Englanders will be considered when the pasteboards are allocated.

Louis Says Tami May Try Reckless Stuff Next Week

Pompton Lakes, N. J., Sept. 11 (AP)—Joe Louis says Tami Maurilio may try some reckless stuff when they meet in Yankee Stadium a week from today, and as a result the Bomber figures this fuss could be over almost as soon as it starts.

"That Tami," Joe outlined the brawl, "I know he's gonna come in there and try to run right over me. So, I figure I'll turn on the red light by trying to catch him coming in and letting him have it. I know he'll be swinging too. So, the way it looks, this fight could end right in the first round or any time after that."

Joe insists Tami might land a lucky one and win it in that first round, too. But that's the kind of a fellow Joe is. The bookmakers hereabouts make it 12 to 1 that the Bronx barkeep doesn't do it any time at all.

Promoter Mike Jacobs said the advance sale indicates the fight would draw a gate of $400,000 "if the sale keeps up good."

Two Pro Leagues Plan Harmony in Winter Basketball

Chicago, Sept. 11 (AP)—Two high-powered professional basketball leagues plan to operate in harmony this season. At least that's the verdict of Carl Bennett of Fort Wayne, Ind., president of a three-man board which will control the National Basketball League until Ward (Piggy) Lambert, the ex-Purdue coach, officially signs a $10,000 a year contract as commissioner at the next league meeting in Buffalo September 23.

"We are not interested in a so-called war with the newly-formed Basketball Association of America," said Bennett. "And we don't intend to start one. The time has come for two leagues and we are certain there are enough players to go around. We plan to operate together and in harmony, and perhaps even have a world basketball series between the two league champions, like they do in baseball."

Top New England Boxers Here for Next Ring Show

More Five Round Bouts Listed for B'nai B'rith Boxing Card in Local Arena September 19

There will be five five-round bouts on the B'nai B'rith boxing show in the municipal auditorium, Thursday, September 19, featuring some of the best amateur talent in the New England and Adirondack A.A.U. districts.

Ben M. Becker, director of bouts for the Kingston club, made this announcement today in Albany, where he has resumed his activities as physical director of Schuylkill High School.

Boston's three representatives on the next ring show will be Mickey McGuire, 118, and Jimmy McCabe, 130, runners-up in the national amateur tournament recently held at Portland, Ore., and Walter "Red" Ryan, 145, New England welterweight champion.

"These are some of the best, simon pures in the country," Becker commented. "There are a lot of good boxers in the New England district, and these are the cream of the crop."

Virgilio on Bill

Other scrappers on the bill are Carmine Virgilio, Poughkeepsie's uncrowned wampanoag champion of the Hudson valley; Tony Maurer, Schenectady lightweight, who defeated Dave Adams of the celebrated Salem Crescent Club on the last program and holds the distinction of being one of the few amateurs to defeat Mario Severino before he became Marty Servo, pro welter champion; Jimmy Martin, 145, Albany, former national Diamond Belt champion who has defeated Paul Hawks, Beacon Bomber and Clarence Alleyne, New York's Golden Gloves national champion, in Kingston.

Mario, who recently suffered a rib injury, has been given the green light by his physician to resume boxing, his handler, Mike Virgilio, said.

One of the five rounders that should be packed with plenty of punching, Becker says, is that between Poughkeepsie's Willie Smith, a comparative beginner and Roosevelt Flagg, the Albany boy over whom he holds a decision.

Smith turned in a surprise victory on the last card, scoring a technical knockout over Dave Peters of the New York Salem Crescent Club in 1:12 of the first round. "Man, can that boy punch!" Peters remarked after the scrap.

Flagg has suffered only two setbacks as an amateur. He dropped a decision to Boston's Tommy McGee and later evened the score. Next week he hopes to get even with Smith who outpointed him in Kingston on a previous card.

The fifth five rounder will send Freddie Baia, upstate welter into action against one of the best opponents available. He's the boy who scored a technical knockout on Willie Bagnola of Mechanicville on the last card run by B'nai B'rith. Later he lost to Richard Dallas in a hard battle. Many fans have been waiting for him to return to action here.

There will be two three-round preliminaries. These have not been arranged yet.

The card up to now is: Mickey McGuire, 118, Boston, vs. Carmine Virgilio, 118, Poughkeepsie.

Jimmy McCabe, 130, Boston vs. Tony Maurer, hard hitting lightweight from Schenectady.

Walter "Red" Ryan, Boston, New England welter champion, vs. Jimmy Martin, Albany, conqueror of Paul Hawks and Clarence Alleyne, New York, national Golden Gloves champ.

Willie Smith, Poughkeepsie vs. Roosevelt Flagg, 121, Albany. Orders for tickets are being accepted at B'nai B'rith Club, 5018.

Chase Has Five Regulars Back For Port's '46 Football Team

Backfield Appears Well Set for Big Season; Keller, Grathwohl Back on Line

With a nucleus of five returning regulars from 1945, Coach Al Chase has been working his Port Jervis High School football team into a strong unit for the past week. Chase was greeted by a squad of 48 candidates at the first drill held last week.

The regulars returning from the team of last year are Ray Nicolette, end or back; Bill Goodfellow, halfback; Dominie Morand, halfback; Sid Keller, tackle; and Earl Grathwohl, tackle. Last year Port failed to win one DUSO contest.

With Middletown shaping up into a strong contender for this year's title, and with little news heard from Newburgh's defending champs, it appears as though Port Jervis and Kingston

Second C.A.A. Tilt Slated for Thursday

After seven innings of play last night at Hasbrouck Park, the first playoff game for the championship of the Catholic Athletic Association between St. Mary's and St. Peter's ended in a 1-1 tie due to darkness.

For the complete seven stanzas it was a keen mound duel between Walter Bigler and Joe Amato who dished up five and six hits respectively for St. Peter's and St. Mary's. Wolf and Larkin were the catchers.

The next playoff tilt is scheduled for Block Park Thursday night between these two clubs.

McWilliams Leaves U. S. Military Academy

West Point, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—His army career ended, halfback Thomas E. (Shorty) McWilliams headed for home today, saying he had not yet definitely decided about returning to Mississippi State College where he starred before entering the U. S. Military Academy.

McWilliams, first of the cadets' wartime football squad to resign from the corps, completed the checking out routine last night.

"I'm going home tomorrow," he said, "but I haven't yet definitely made up my mind about returning to school."

McWilliams was the center of a controversy between the southern school and the military academy for several weeks. McKeen had charged that McWilliams had been denied the right to resign on two occasions this summer because of his football ability.

Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, superintendent of the academy, countered with the statement that McKeen's charges were "incorrect," but that the star had been offered a large sum of money to resign and continue his education and football playing elsewhere.

Col. Ned D. Moore, academy public relations officer, said Gen. Taylor had concluded that "the effect to the recently publicized circumstances had so weakened McWilliams' will to succeed at West Point as to render questionable his value as a cadet and his promise as a future army officer."

Fathers Will Select Boy Who Shows Greatest Improvement for Entire Season

Harold J. "Pete" Hatch, former football coach at Kingston High School, will offer a trophy to the member of the local high school's football team for the next four years who shows the most improvement during the season. It was announced at Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Education.

The proposal by Mr. Hatch, who has resigned his post at the local school to accept a position at Ithaca College, was accepted by the Board of Education and its members went on record as expressing their appreciation for his interest in local sports.

The selection of the winning player will be made by fathers of the boys on the football team who have witnessed at least two-thirds of Kingston's games each year.

Following is the resolution as adopted at the board's meeting Tuesday:

Whereas Mr. Harold J. Hatch was a member of the Physical Education staff and coach in the Kingston public schools for three years, and

Whereas Mr. Hatch has accepted a position as a member of the staff at Ithaca College, and

Whereas Mr. Hatch has offered to present a trophy to a member of the Kingston High School football team for the next four years under certain conditions,

Therefore, be it resolved that Mr. Hatch's award be accepted and that the Board of Education express to Mr. Hatch its appreciation of his interest.

Mylin Has Returned As Lafayette Coach

Easton, Pa., Sept. 11 (AP)—Hooks Mylin is back this year as coach of the Lafayette College football team, but the Leopards' prospects for '46 are as gloomy as they were during the lean war years.

Hopes in Easton suffered a severe jolt with the announcement that two of Lafayette's most reliable wartime gridders would not be back this year—they're going into the armed forces. They are Andy Skvoretz and Dan Kovach. The Lafayette schedule includes Columbia at New York, November 16.

O.P.A. Grants Hike For Window Glass

Washington, Sept. 11 (AP)—O.P.A. getting set to boost sugar prices, granted an 18 per cent hike for window glass today and simultaneously wiped out all ceilings on razor blades, baby carriages, fountain pens and more than 20 other commodities.

Reports of the coming sugar price boost were confirmed by Secretary of Agriculture Clinton B. Anderson who said at Albuquerque the increase will be announced "in a day or two."

A job lot of consumer goods, ranging from television sets to dry batteries were removed from price control today. O.P.A. said some were "insignificant in the cost of living," while others were in good supply and hence no longer in need of price restraint.

O.P.A. Announces Stiffer Butcher Control in State

Will Stop Slaughterers From Killing More Than Fair Share to Hit B.M.

Fortified by a much stronger slaughter control program, the Albany District O.P.A. office struck again yesterday, to prevent some slaughterers from killing more than their fair share of animals in order that meat will get into legitimate channels.

As a result of action by Edward T. Kelley, chief enforcement attorney of the Albany District O.P.A. Food Section, a United States marshal cooperating with the United States federal court for the northern district of New York is looking for some slaughterers to serve temporary injunctions and action for discontinuance for failure to obey O.P.A. slaughtering regulations.

Attorney Kelley declined to reveal the names of the slaughterers for whom the United States marshal is searching to have the accept service of the papers but added that as soon as they have been located he would reveal the names.

Mr. Kelley, however, did say that most of them were located outside of the capital district area in the northern area of the Albany O.P.A. district and some in the vicinity of the Canadian border.

Mr. Kelley said that his office had been for sometime preparing summonses and complaints seeking permanent or temporary injunctions to stamp out illegal slaughterers and that his findings as a result of investigations had been that many slaughterers fail to provide or file proper records. "We now operate with a much stronger control program than was in operation last June," Mr. Kelley continued, "and there are teeth in the new controls to prevent some slaughterers from killing so many animals that there will not be enough left to provide fair shares for those who ship meat to retail stores where only small numbers of meat animals are grown or killed."

Cigarette Glow Leads To McCauley Capture

Keyser, W. Va., Sept. 11 (AP)—The glow of a lighted cigarette in a mountain ravine led to the capture last night of Mark McCauley, 30, who had been sought by a 200-man posse more than 24 hours for the slaying of two West Virginia police officers.

Two members of the posse—Owen D. Hughes, a game warden, and Andrew Landis of Keyser—were searching for the Davis, W. Va., coal miner in the hill country near Emoryville, scene of the double slaying, when they noted the red glow from the cigarette.

A shouted command to come out or be killed brought McCauley to the posse members, his hands high in the air. He was taken to the Harrison county jail in Clarksburg.

State Police Sgt. Joseph Horne and Tucker county Sheriff O. Gay Hovatter were killed by .38-caliber revolver bullets from close range in a house near Emoryville after they had placed the miner under arrest on a warrant charging theft of a truck, Mineral county Prosecutor Vernon E. Rankin said.

Mineral county Prosecutor Vernon E. Rankin said McCauley would be held on a murder charge for grand jury action in October.

Virginia's Husband To Be Discharged

Fort Lewis, Wash., Sept. 11 (AP)—Pvt. Ali Ipar of the infantry was to become private citizen Ipar today—as a bridegroom with family responsibilities.

The Fort Lewis Public Relations office announced that the erstwhile film producer and scenario writer, who gained the limelight a fortnight ago by his marriage to actress Virginia Bruce, was to be released under the father classification, on the ground that the actress' children by a former marriage are now recognized by the army as his legal responsibility.

Ipar, a Turkish National, was inducted two months ago. His honeymoon was interrupted abruptly by a summons to explain how he obtained three three-day passes—an explanation that proved satisfactory to his army superiors.

safely. Listed as dead were Lt. Moody J. Hall, Nashville, Tenn. pilot; Lt. William L. Hittson, Glendale, Calif., engineer, and Second Lt. Ralph H. Schoenstein, San Francisco, co-pilot; Pfc. T. H. Simpson, Shipman, Va., was missing.

Newburgh-Beacon Newspapers Have Charter in Guild

H. P. Eighmey of Kingston Assists in Organizing White-Collar Force on Gannett Papers

The Newburgh-Beacon Newspaper Guild, representing white-collar employees of the Gannett newspaper in Newburgh and Beacon, is now a chartered local of the American Newspaper Guild, it was announced today.

The charter for the new Guild was granted by the International Executive Board of the American Newspaper Guild meeting in St. Louis, Mo., this past week-end.

Assisting in the organization of the down-river newspaper employees were Charles H. Crissey, international representative of the American Newspaper Guild of Elizabeth, N. J.; John T. McManus, president of the Newspaper Guild of New York, of New York city; and Henry P. Eighmey, president of the Empire State District Council of the American Newspaper Guild of 94 Highland avenue, Kingston.

It was not until 1909 that investigators discovered infantile paralysis was caused by a virus.

IS PROPERTY UPKEEP A PROBLEM?
Turn OLD HOUSES into "NEW" HOMES with FLINTKOTE Insulated Brick Siding
Here's an amazing new bargain in Home Repair. For very little more than the cost of either insulation or brick-type siding (if purchased separately) the new Flintkote Insulated Brick Siding gives you both. This remarkable new material makes homes more comfortable, more attractive, more rentable, and more salable.
Flintkote Insulated Brick Siding soon pays for itself in fuel savings and in reduced upkeep expense. And, at the same time, it adds greatly to the value of your house by making it look like a substantial "brick" home. Write or call us today for free samples and estimates.
